POLITICAL HIGHLIGHTS

By JAMES G. COLBERT

Striking Contrast Between Conventions of 2 Parties

One big difference between the coming Democratic and Republican State Conventions is that the GOP convocation probably will settle all the contests for places on the Republican ticket while the Democratic assembly will not resolve much of anything.

If the Republican candidates seeking endorsement for state offices follow past custom and tradition, they all will side by the convention decisions, averting any strife at a state level in the GOP primary.

The battle for the Democratic nomination for Governor will be waged at the convention to be held in the Boston Arena on Saturday, June 11.

Whoever emerges as the gubernatorial choice of the Democratic convocation will be forced to meet State Treasurer John F. Kennedy and possibly former Boston Mayor John B.

Woman 81, Killed In 8-Ft. Fall

An eight foot fall from a rear porch when a railing broke has caused the accidental death of 81-year-old Mrs. Mary Myers of 316 Woodward St., Waban, on Saturday afternoon.

Her husband, John Myers, 86, and her son, Norman J., 51, were at home at the time of the tragic mishap, but did not hear her cries for help until a neighbor, Joseph Adelson of 310 Woodward St., came to the door, and then summoned help.

Mrs. Myers was taken to Newton-Wellesley Hospital in a police ambulance where she was pronounced dead on arrival. Last rites of the Catholic Church were administered by Rev. William J. Flanagan of St. Philip Neri Church, Waban.

Police theorized Mrs. Myers leaned against the wooden railing of the porch, that it gave way, and she plunged eight feet to the black-topped driveway.

Dr. Peter Angelo, the medical examiner, said death was due to a fractured skull. He added that the porch was being repaired and had no support.

Funeral services for Mrs. Myers were held yesterday morning in Sacred Heart Church where a solemn requiem Mass was offered at 9 a. m.

Whitmore Seeks Victory In GOP Governor Battle

Former Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., in a hard-hitting speech at a reception tendered him at the Toten Pole in Auburndale, told his audience that present signs point to his nomination as the Republican candidate for Governor at the GOP State convention to be held in Worcester a week from Saturday (June 11).

Whitmore declared that a continuation of the present trend among the delegates who will choose between the four contenders for the GOP gubernatorial endorsement would result in his nomination on the first ballot.

The three-term Newton Mayor, who retired voluntarily from office last January, made it plain in his remarks that he considers former State Public Works Commissioner John A. Volpe of Winchester his principal adversary.

Whitmore pointed out that in his 15 years of political life he has never lost an election and then added that his principal opponent for the Republican nomination for Governor has never won an election and has never even run for public office. (Volpe is the only one of the four GOP gubernatorial aspirants who has never held elective office.)

"The Governorship is no place to gamble on a man who says he is a winner against a man who has proved himself a winner," asserted Whitmore.

Ex-Mayor Whitmore said it is time to explode the myth that the Republicans cannot

The federation is composed of twelve housing committees in the Boston area, and its purpose is "to promote equal opportunity in housing in Greater Boston."

To this end, the Federation will provide regional representation for its member committees, promote at the regional level their mutual aims and objectives, and coordinate or sponsor such activities and programs as may be appropriate.

Outdoor Ceremonies Start 7 PM Saturday

The largest graduating class in the century-old history of Newton High School—approximately 1060 boys and girls—will receive their diplomas on Saturday evening (June 4) at 7 p.m. in the Dickinson Stadium on the school grounds.

In event bad weather forces postponement, the ceremonies will be held on the first fair day. The ceremonies, if cancelled out by inclement weather in bygone years, were held indoors, but there is no hall in Newton large enough to accommodate the record-shattering graduating class.

Last year, the Centennial Year of Newton High School, the graduating class numbered 868. This also was a record. In 1958 the seniors who received diplomas numbered 770.

Next fall the new South High School will open but just how that will affect the graduation exercises in 1961 for Newton boys and girls can not be determined. It depends on whether a decision is made to hold one graduation exercise or two.

Assuming that the weatherman will provide clear weather for Saturday evening, the exercises will be preceded by a special musical program by the high school concert band. This will be given from 6:30 to 7 p.m.

The graduation address will be delivered by Harold Howe II, principal of Newton High School.

At the exercises, some 39 awards and scholarship winners will be announced. Several cups will be awarded.

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs will award the diplomas, assisted by Haskell C. Freeman, chairman of the Newton School Committee; Eric N. Dennard, superintendent of Newton Public Schools; Dr. Charles E. Brown, assistant superintendent; Principal Howe, and Warren M. Switzer, director of Newton Technical High School.

Others who will participate are former Mayor Howard Whitmore Jr., president of the Newton High School Alumni Association, Dr. Ross Cannon of the Second Church in Newton, West Newton, and George Arnold, of the class of 1923.

This will be Mr. Dennard's final official appearance as

Bennett Cerf Gives Laugh Recipe In June Suburbia

Bennett Cerf, author, lecturer, publisher and television personality gets top billing in the June issue of Suburbia Today arriving with this newspaper next week.

Mr. Cerf lavishly illustrates his point of view that good, old-fashioned laughter is one of the best weapons in the fight against coronaries and ulcers.

He has an article full of funny anecdotes designed to help our distraught contemporaries in mixed-up America to keep their equilibrium through any tense or boring situations in their daily or week-end rounds.

The June issue is filled with vacation bonuses in pleasure. There are smiles on every page. There's an interesting story of an American and an Englishman who swapped houses one summer and ended up with a wonderful, inexpensive, adventurous vacation.

The food pages are spread for perhaps the best party of them all—the wedding breakfast.

TELEVIEWING THE NEWS

By LEE LOUMOS

Parents planning active careers for their offspring had better start training them early. Break out the baseball gloves, the tennis rackets, and the swimming suits, and get those children on the road to stardom. What has athletic equipment to do with preparing for an acting career? Simply that becoming a star in the field of sports is a big step in becoming a star in the acting profession.

Johnny Weissmuller did it, parlaying an Olympic swimming style into a starring role as "Tarzan." And the latest "Tarzan," Denny Miller, graduated to the role from the basketball courts of UCLA. Girls interested in film stardom can follow Bonnie Henke's example and lace on the ice skates. Gardner McKay moved from the tennis courts to a south-west schooner to star on TV's "Adventures in Paradise." Chuck Connors traded his first baseman's glove for a rapid-fire carbine to become TV's "The Rifleman." And star athletes presently active in sports, such as pitcher Don Drysdale of the Dodgers, turn up all the time as featured players on various TV shows. The athletic field may be an unorthodox dramatic school, but one look at the cast lists of TV and motion pictures proves that it is an effective one. And one look at the picture on a properly adjusted TV set can show you the added enjoyment proper adjustment can make in your TV viewing. When you call Lee Loumos, Inc. to make those adjustments, our combination of expert technicians and the latest modern testing equipment will provide you with fast dependable TV service that will insure the best possible performance of your set. Call us next time.

And remember, every Friday night from 7:30 to 8:30 is open house for demonstration of the new Thomas choral translator organ—hear it or play it yourself, you will be amazed at such versatility for so little money.

Political Highlights

Hynes in the September primary.

Kennedy, of course, already is an avowed candidate. Hynes probably will not make his decision on whether he will stand for the Governorship until about the middle of June. If he does decide to run, he will disregard the convention, just as Treasurer Kennedy is doing.

Two other prominent Democratic figures who are repeatedly mentioned as possible gubernatorial contenders are Congressman Torbert H. Macdonald of Malden and Governor's Councillor Patrick J. McDonough of Dorchester.

Political observers generally consider it unlikely that either Macdonald or McDonough would run in the primary without the convention endorsement, and time is gradually ebbing out on them as far as the convention is concerned.

Lieutenant Governor Robert F. Murphy and Secretary of State Joseph D. Ward both have substantial blocs of convention delegates already lined up behind their candidacies. But a third group of delegates, who have adopted a wait-and-see attitude, are still uncommitted, apparently control the balance of power.

Murphy and Ward followed different strategy in endeavoring to build their delegate strength.

Murphy concentrated to a great extent on the persons who attended the 1958 convention as delegates, assuming that a big majority of them would be delegates again this year.

Ward on the other hand, had his supporters organize ward and town committee slates in many areas of the state. He picked up some votes in the districts where his groups won. But in other sectors where he lost he antagonized delegates who might have supported him.

Murphy and Ward have demonstrated substantial convention strength in the past. Murphy, in fact has never lost a convention fight. He was endorsed for Governor in 1954 and for Lieutenant Governor in 1956 and 1958. Ward won the endorsement for Attorney General at the 1956 Democratic convention but then lost to Edward J. McCormack, Jr., in the primary. McCormack defeated him for the convention nod two years ago.

One difference between Ward and Murphy is that Ward is making his big fight at the convention and probably will shift to some other office if he fails in his quest for the gubernatorial endorsement. Murphy, however, has indicated his intention of running in the primary, whether he wins or loses at the convention.

While the candidates for the Republican nomination for Governor have taken off the gloves and are engaging in some two-fisted campaigning as they come down the final stretch of their race to the June 11 convention in Worcester, there is little doubt that the losers will accept the decision of the conclave and shift their targets to other offices.

Former Newton Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., caused Republicans to sit up in attention when he declared that if John A. Volpe is nominated as the GOP candidate for Governor the Democrats will immediately blame him for everything that is wrong in the State Public Works Department.

Whitmore didn't single out Volpe by name, but Mr. Volpe is the only former State Public Works Commissioner running for Governor. He said the Public Works Department would be a millstone around Volpe's neck and that Volpe would have to devote much of the campaign to proving his honesty, if he is nominated.

The blunt assertions by the former Newton Mayor were interpreted by his listeners as meaning that he feels the battle for the GOP endorsement for governor is now a two-man struggle between him and Volpe.

One of the surprising aspects to Whitmore's remarks is that it is generally assumed in political quarters that Volpe will be the nominee for Lieutenant Governor if Whitmore gets the top spot on the GOP State ticket and that Whitmore would take second place on the slate if Volpe attains the gubernatorial endorsement.

Rumblings among the delegates to the Republican convention indicate that a fight may develop at the conclave over the proposed adoption of a rule providing for the elimination of the candidate who polls the fewest votes on each ballot.

Volpe's backers generally appear to favor such a rule. Supporters of the other candidates are much less enthusiastic about the idea and apparently would prefer to risk the possibility of a deadlock.

It's quite possible that an important test of strength at the GOP conclave may come in the battle over the adoption or rejection of the so-called "low man" rule.

Beethoven Fun Fair Saturday

Plans for the "Fun-Fair" on Saturday, June 4 at the Beethoven School in Newton are being made by Mrs. Louis Sones and Mrs. Samuel Beaser, co-chairmen. Sponsored by the P. T. A., the fair will start at 11:30 a.m. and continue until 4:00 p.m. The Beethoven School is located on Beethoven avenue at Beacon street in Waban.

The aim of the fair, according to its chairman is to provide children and their families a fun-filled day, at little cost. A committee of 22 under the direction of Mrs. Aaron Fleischer is planning a large variety of games, suitable for children of all ages. Many games will offer prizes to the participants. Mrs. Murry Slavet is in charge of prizes.

Other attractions will include Pony Rides, arranged by Lesner White, Tractor Rides by Mr. and Mrs. Donald Satterfield, Balloons by Fred King, Face Painting by Mrs. Warren Kastner, Polaroid Pictures by Sidney Stogel and Paul Nation, Food by Mrs. David Heard and Ice Cream by Howard Shaw.

Adults as well as children will enjoy the sale of home-made cakes being planned by Mrs. Leonard Albert and Mrs. Alan Salny and a White Elephant sale under the supervision of Mrs. Paul Nation and Mrs. Sidney Stogel.

Other committee members include Arthur Zich, ground supervisor; Calvin Hill, insurance and safety; Mrs. Harvey Karp, publicity; Mrs. Robert Rosenblatt and Mrs. Irving Nisson, posters; Mrs. Maurice Leeper, bank; Dr. Herbert Selenkow, medical supervisor; and Robert Simonds, public address system. In case of rain the fair will be held June 11.

"The cigarette lighter won't work, Henry!"

Favors Project

To the Editor:

Dear Sir:

On May 19 at my request the Directors of the Newton Taxpayers' Association released me from any individual connection with the Association's policy of not recording itself on individual zone changes except when one party is a public agency, where there is a change in ordinance content, or where there is a change in zoning policy of general application in the city.

I now ask the citizens of Newton through your column to write right now to the 3 aldermen living in their districts plus, if they don't live there, another proposed development Chairman of the Claims and Rules Committee, urging that they act favorably on the zone change requested by Sylvania at the old Shaw estate.

I believe nothing can be taken for granted in this case as it stands now. The opposition is vociferous. I urge the citizens to take specific and effective steps immediately to come to the aid of the proposal. In my opinion Newton cannot afford to miss the opportunity.

It will give a major economic boost to the city—in jobs, auxiliary educational activities, as well as municipal revenue.

Located in the periphery of the city, it is in accord with the good development of Newton—with our manufacturing and developmental establishments on the periphery helping support a healthy residential central area.

It is well buffered—by MDC land, by land to be given to public uses, the Mount Ida College, the Charles River Country Club and Nahant street. No immediate abutter has objected.

One property holder directly across the street and many people in Oak Hill have objected on the grounds of traffic.

On the question of "holding open land," the tract abuts a large holding of the MDC for which a substantial recreation area plus a possible highway is planned. The proposed plant itself, in view of the way its development is planned, would act as a fine buffer for the city from the public recreation area.

In short the proposal will not harm the Oak Hill community any more than any other developed use if at all, and will prove of substantial benefit both directly and indirectly to the city at large.

The proposal is a honey—and by far the best type of development, in my opinion, which Newton can expect for the tract.

So let your aldermen know if you think so too. I believe they will welcome your letter. They should have it.

LORENZ F. MUTH, JR.

Reveals Study Of Restricted Area Property

"Numerous studies have shown that property values do not fall merely because a minority family moves into a previously restricted area," said Bertram A. Druker of Chestnut Hill road, president of the Massachusetts Association of Real Estate Boards, at a recent meeting of the Newton Fair Housing Practices Committee.

"This fact is not generally known and much more work is needed to educate the public," he reported. . . .

"Bias exists in the minds of the public and tenants," said Mr. Druker. "More education is needed throughout all segments of society. What is being done in churches, synagogues, schools, and on the broad political front?"

"Real estate people have a real understanding of the situation and a desire to cooperate," he said.

Appearing with Mr. Druker on the panel was Dr. Lawrence Howard, assistant professor of Political Science at Brandeis University, who discussed the meaning of integration.

"Integration means to make complete," he said. "When any group is excluded from our community it is less whole. It is deprived of valuable elements. Such groups have a distinct contribution to make, and they enrich our society. Our concern is also with liberty and with equal opportunity."

Dr. Stephen Deane of Simmons College was Moderator of the meeting, which was held at the Memorial School in Oak Hill Park.

What saves neighboring communities is the wise and the alert banding together in the interest of intelligent free choice.

Here you see stated the simple democratic principles of the Citizens' Rights Association of Newton. If you believe in them and want them for our community, you are invited to -

Two-Day Anniversary Will Be Observed By Methodist Church

A special worship service and church supper will be features of the 85th anniversary observance of the Newton Centre Methodist Church to be held Sunday and Monday, June 5 and 6. Dr. H. Daniel Hawver, former pastor of the church and present pastor of the College Avenue Methodist Church in Somerville, will be the guest speaker on Monday evening.

First-preaching-service of the Newton Centre Church was held on June 10, 1875 in a hall in the old fire-engine house, which used to stand at the rear of where the present church is now located at Centre St. at angle Rd. The Rev. C. C. Chaffield, a local preacher and founder of "The New England Journal of Education," was the first minister.

In September 1879, ground was broken for the first church structure. It was a small wooden building, in which the congregation worshipped for a period of years. In 1899 the present stone structure was completed and a service of dedication held on May 7th of that year with Bishop Cyrus D. Foss, as the preacher.

The church has always prided itself in being a small family church and in its entire history has never had a membership in excess of 500 people. At the same time, it possesses one of the most beautiful sanctuaries in the whole Boston area.

On Sunday morning, June 5, at the regular 11:00 a. m. worship, the pastor, the Rev. Elmo F. Young, will preach on "The Purpose of the Church." Both the Junior-Intermediate and Sanctuary Choirs will sing. Mrs. Charles H. Milliken, who is the member of longest standing in the church, having joined in 1895, will be the honored guest at the catered church supper on Monday evening. Mr. Ralph B. Emery, secretary of the church Board of Trustees, will read the minutes of some of the very early organizational meetings of the church.

Mrs. Hayden, upon her graduation and registration by the Board of Pharmacy in 1910, became the first woman registered pharmacist in Newton. She joined her father to form the partnership of S. N. and C. L. Sears at Newton Lower Falls from 1910 to 1923, when the store was sold to Raymond Mills.

In 1915 she married Dr. Thomas Hayden, who died in 1956. She was accompanied to the dinner by her son, Dr. Thomas Sears Hayden and his wife, Virginia, of West Newton.

Graduation Sunday Eve

Scholars Win Highest Awards At Newton HS

Two National Honor Society students—Judith Louise Malone and Paul Henry Guzzi—received the 1960 Girls' and Boys' Senior Cups as Newton High School graduates.

Some 5,000 parents, relatives and friends attended the ceremonies which had been postponed from Saturday night because of inclement weather. It was the largest graduating class in the century-old history of N. H. S.

Announcements of the awards, prizes and cups and presentation of diplomas followed the address by High School principal Harold Howe II, who made his swan-song appearance in Newton.

He departs to become superintendent of schools at Tyler, Texas, and leaves as monuments to his stay in Newton the introduction of the House system at Newton High School, and the construction of the new South High School which opens in the Fall. Mr. Howe spoke on "It's Your World."

Haskell C. Freedman, chairman of the Newton School Committee, made the announcement of the awards and prizes and presentation of the Dickinson Cup.

Former Mayor Howard Whitmore Jr., of the class of 1924, president of the Newton High School Alumni Association, presented the Senior Cups to Miss Malone and Guzzi.

The diplomas to the record-breaking 1060 boys and girls.

Solid Newton GOP Support For Candidacy of Whitmore

Former Mayor Will Be Top Convention Choice

A 28-member Newton delegation will journey to the Republican State Convention in Worcester Saturday solidly pledged to back former Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., for the GOP nomination for Governor.

Political experts generally believe that when the Republican conclave comes to a close Saturday night Whitmore will be his party's nominee for either Governor or Lieutenant Governor.

Former Assistant Attorney General George Michaels of Newton Upper Falls will seek the endorsement for Attorney General at the conclave to be held two days hence.

Michaels, who served under the late Attorney General George Fingold, is battling State Senator William E. Hays of Waltham for the right to oppose Attorney General Edward J. McCormack, Jr., next November.

Edward J. O'Donoghue of Newton also is a prospective candidate for Secretary of State.

Ex-Mayor Whitmore's drive for the Governorship was given a big lift this week when former Governor's Councilor Bruce Crane of Dalton, one of the most influential Republicans in western Massachusetts, endorsed his candidacy. Crane will place Whitmore's name in nomination from the

Little League Tag Days This Week

Some 60 Newton South Little league baseball players in uniform will circulate the village squares this Friday and Saturday (June 10-11, for their annual Tag Day.

The Tag Day committee is under the direction of Alden K. Sanderson and he will be in charge of the boys. They will be very much in evidence in the villages of Waban, Newton Highlands, Newton Upper Falls and Newton Lower Falls.

SUCCESS IN TWO CAREERS — Attractive and proud graduating parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold V. McAvoy, of Newton, enjoy a moment with their two youngsters, Deborah and Stephen, before Boston University commencement exercises last Sunday. The college careers of these two serious young Americans is truly an inspirational story.

Textbooks And Babies Keep College Careers Busy Ones

A happy married life and a successful college career can be synonymous, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold V. McAvoy, of 4 Hovey street, Newton, have made the idea work.

"Get married and improve your college grades," is sound advice according to the handsome, healthy young Newton parents of two fine youngsters. Plenty of hard work was included in the success recipe.

Some guidance counselors might wince at this suggestion but the McAvoy were among the graduates receiving degrees at the Commencement exercises of Boston University held at Boston Garden last Sunday.

With an assist here and there along the way from understanding parents, the McAvoy survived the rigors of their college careers and the birth of two babies, to wend their way in the long line of happy graduates to accept their coveted parchments on Sunday.

Despite parental help, the husky, 6 foot, 2 inch, 210-pound young graduate and father has been the family provider. He came to Boston University from Eastern Military Academy, Long Island. He received a scholarship to B. U. for four years and played a guard position in the Terrier varsity line.

Before moving to Newton, the McAvoy lived in a Boston apartment. The young husband defrayed the rent by managing the apartment house. Later his responsibility expanded to four apartment houses.

Young Hal McAvoy also held such part time jobs as truck driver, mail deliverer, floor waxer and ditch digger. It was no royal road to education.

Newton Asks High Court Quash Senate Districts

A special session of the full bench of the Massachusetts Supreme Court has been scheduled for Tuesday, June 21, to hear arguments in the suit filed by the City of Newton attacking the constitutionality of the new Senatorial redistricting.

Newton officials charged that the redistricting bill, as passed recently by the Democratically-controlled legislature, would cut Newton in half. They claimed that Newton voters would be required to cast ballots for representative in one polling place, and for senator in another place.

Newton Mayor Donald L. Gibbs and other City officials contended that under the redistricting bill "it will not now be possible to establish new voting precincts" in Newton for the state elections this November.

The suit by Newton officials was filed in Supreme Court as Justice R. Ammi Cutter held a special session on Monday to hear a similar suit filed last week by six Senators.

Newton Posts $4 Million In New Valuation

An increase in new valuation of $4 million which was termed "an encouraging factor" is reported by the Newton Board of Assessors and Mayor Donald L. Gibbs in an explanation to the taxpayers on how the tax dollar is spent.

The increase of $4.60 in the 1960 tax rate of $59.60 as compared with the rate per $1,000 last year is due to several factors, the report explained. It went on:

"The School Budget (over which the Mayor and Aldermen have absolutely no control) increased $900,720 or 12.3 per cent over 1959. State and County charges against the city increased 19 per cent over 1959 while revenue from this source increased only 7 per cent.

"For statistical purposes our 1960 tax rate is broken down into two rates, the Budget of Schools and the budget for all other departments. A comparison of the School rate

Aldermen Ok Housing For The Aged

The Newton Board of Aldermen has approved the plan for the Newton Housing Authority to press for low-rent public housing for the aged with Federal Assistance.

The Board, by vote of 18 to 1, approved the recommendation of Mayor Donald L. Gibbs to authorize the authority to proceed with steps to complete a contract with the government.

Although plans are being made for 100 units, Rep. Irene K. Thresher, chairman of the Housing Authority, said an application would be made for 125 units. The Authority began months ago to study various

Gibbs Urges Pay Scale Study Now

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs believes a new study should be undertaken at once to determine proper salary levels on job classifications for city employees and has urged the Board of Aldermen to appropriate $6,000 to hire a consulting firm to make the study.

He said such a survey is a correct solution since the city employed a consultant and appointed a committee of city employees for job reclassification about five years ago.

Battle To Head GOP Ticket To Be Settled on Saturday

Greater uncertainty surrounds the Republican State convention to be held at Worcester on Saturday than has been the case with any comparable GOP conclave since a young legislator named Henry Abot Lodge, Jr., defeated Sinclair Weeks for endorsement for the U. S. Senate 24 years ago.

For the first time since the re-primary convention system picking State tickets was revived back in 1952 the Republican delegates will assemble without knowing in advance who their party's candidate for Governor is to be.

Republican State Conventions usually are cut-and-dried affairs at which the delegates convene at 10 o'clock in the morning and are on their way home by 5 in the afternoon without having witnessed anything resembling a rousing fight.

Saturday's conclave in Worcester may be cut from a different bolt of political cloth. It likely to provide more excitement and fireworks than the last four GOP State conventions combined.

DR. RAY JOHNS

United Fund Appoints Dr. Ray Johns

The United Fund Campaign for 1961 has appointed Dr. Ray Johns of 186 Park street, Newton, to the Public Service Department.

Dr. Johns, general secretary of the Boston YMCA, will serve as chairman in the Private Employees Division. He has long been active in United Fund and Red Feather campaigns.

"The United Fund is the modern way to provide better financed and better operated community services," Dr. Johns said. "It is the better way, too, for contributors: they give once and their contributions help all types of services and agencies."

He served as National Director of Operations of United Services Organizations during World War II and was affiliated with the National Staff of Y. M. C. A.'s.

Past Chairman, New England Committee, of the International Conference of Social Work, Dr. Johns is Trustee of Northeastern University, Andover-Newton Theological Seminary and the National Y. M. C. A. Retirement Fund and a member of the National Board of National Council of Y. M. C. A.'s, National Social Welfare Assembly and National Budget Committee.

He is also a former member, Board of Directors, United Community Services.

The McAvoy youngsters, Stephen, a husky 15 month, and Deborah, who will be five months old in June, have no comment. But they have a lot of pride in two wonderful parents to be enjoyed later.

Starlings Fired On - Fine $100

The starlings are still fitting about Newton Cemetery, but Arthur Smith of 58 Morton road, Newtonville, is $100 poorer.

Smith reportedly fired at the starlings and judge Donald E. Mayberry in District Court imposed the fine when Smith pleaded guilty to a charge of having a loaded gun in his car.

Burns-

Allen R. Cail, son of Dr. and Mrs. Harold E. Cail of 189 Franklin street, suffered burns over his arms, hands, legs, and lower body. Doctors at Newton - Wellesley Hospital said he suffered first and second degree burns over 20 per cent of his body.

He was to have graduated with honors from Boston College on Monday.

His scheduled June 25 marriage to Miss Maryalice Sullivan, 19, of Concord, may be deferred.

Young Cail had planned to enter Tufts Dental School this fall to follow the career of his father, a prominent dentist with an office in Jamaica Plain. Initial fears were that the accident would jeopardize his dental career, but his mother said:

"We were worried at first, but doctors now believe his hands will not be damaged."

The barbecue accident occurred in the patio at the rear of the Cail home. Police said the youth poured a shellac solvent over the charcoal and the container exploded. Flaming fluid scattered over his clothing.

He ran screaming into the house. Rev. John F. X. Harney of St. Sebastian's School, who was visiting, rolled the youth into a rug on the living room floor and used seat cushions to smother the flames. Mrs. Cail, a former nurse, administered first aid before police and firemen arrived to rush him to the hospital.

in the legal action were Newton City Clerk Monte G. Basbas and the Newton Registrars of Voters.

Petitioners in the earlier action were Senators Fred I. Lamson of Malden, Francis L. Lappin of Dracut, Charles W. Hedges of Quincy, Howard W. Young of Dartmouth, C. Eugene Farnum of Medford and Ramon F. Gustin, Mrs. William C. Hill, Mrs. George W. Mitchell, Jr., Mrs. Stanley M. Rowland, and Dr. Katharine B. Scott.

Mrs. Mark Beran, Mrs. Kenneth Kurson and Mrs. Shepard F. Williams, all of Waban, and Mrs. Malcolm S. Knowles, and Mrs. Ralph W. Stober, both of Newton Highlands, will also attend.

Joseph A. Silvano of Brookline.

Also joining in that suit were Rep. George E. Rawson of Newton, State Republican Committee Chairman Daniel E. McLean and State Commit-tee-man Laurence Banks.

Rep. Rawson has expressed confidence that the Supreme Judicial Court will find the redistricting bill unconstitutional because the legislature failed to redistrict representa-tive seats.

The suit filed by the City of Newton seeks a writ of mandamus to prevent Secre-tary of State Joseph D. Ward from printing any ballots for voting in accordance with the new districts. It also asks the High Court to adjudge Chapter 432, Acts of 1960, unconstitutional and void.

Atty. Gen. Edward J. Mc-Cormack Jr., appeared as counsel for Secretary Ward in the action before Justice Cut-ter. In his answer filed to the suit by the six Republican senators, the attorney general denied the redistricting of Senate seats and those of the executive councilors is illegal.

McCormack asked the Su-preme Court to rule that the new redistricting bill "is of full force and effect" and that the Secretary of State is to follow those lines in having ballots prepared for the pri-mary and state elections.

The suit charged that the new senatorial redistricting put Newton Wards 1, 6 and 7 in the new Norfolk-Suffolk district and puts Ward 2, 3, 4, 5 and 8 in the new Nor-folk-Middlesex senatorial dis-trict.

Aldermen, Mayor Gibbs said: "In the ensuing years it was inevitable, with raises being granted to some employees and denied others and with other cities and towns of simi-lar size increasing the salaries of their employees while we moved slowly due to our con-servative nature, that results of this previous survey have gone completely astray.

"It is my opinion that we should have a complete new study to determine proper salary levels on job classifica-tions for these people. The matter has been considered seriously in this office and we have interviewed representatives of several consulting firms who are experts in this field.

"It is their feeling that this work should be started not later than the middle of June, if they are to make a proper finding in time for budget use next Fall.

"I feel very strongly that proper salaries should be paid to our employees if they are to maintain efficiency, morale and the dignity which Newton has always had."

Long Island Offers New Tour Area Via New London Boat Trip

Long Island, which stretches like a long breakwater along the southern border of New England, offers a wonderful opportunity for new highways and byways to explore close to home for the folks who like the family car to go places.

But most New Englanders have neglected this area. The big stumbling block to their plans has been the thought of driving some 240 miles to New York before reaching Long Island.

Few realize that the long land trip can be avoided. Instead they can take an invigorating cruise across Long Island Sound and be on Long Island just 90 minutes away from New London, Conn.

The New London Freight Lines Inc., provide year 'round service between New London and Orient Point, Long Island, New York.

Summer schedules have just gone into effect and these provide six round trips daily aboard the SS GAY HEAD or the SS ORIENT. The sailings are roughly two hours apart each way.

The summer schedule went into effect on May 27 and will continue through Labor Day. While the family car is safely in the hold, mother, dad and the kiddies can enjoy the sun deck or the lounges. There are plenty of seats available and a snack bar is a tempting magnet.

New London and vicinity are grand tourist magnets in themselves. New London is an old whaling port, and nearby are Mystic with its famed marine museum and Groton, where our new nuclear submarines are being constructed at the Electric Boat Co.

After the cars disembark at Dock road, in Orient Point, Long Island, N.Y., wide highways beckon to the motorist. There are modern motels and inns, rambling potato, strawberry and cauliflower farms. There are the famed Southampton and West Hampton Beaches. The town of Greenport is only a few miles away; and so is the town of Riverhead, the County seat of Suffolk County, N.Y.

Nearby, too, is the unique Shelter Island which is famous for fishing and its fine hotels and golf course.

The hour and a half trip across Long Island Sound aboard these modern, white vessels of the New London Freight Lines provides a pleasant interlude of rest and relaxation in the sun or the moonlight after hours of touring.

It combines the tang and thrill of an ocean voyage with a land cruise. It allows the prospect of a new world to conquer a new world close by for the vagabonds of the superhighway who are looking for some place they have not visited.

Mayor Gibbs' Resignation

When Mayor Donald L. Gibbs submitted his resignation from his State Senate seat a few days ago, he obviously did so to carry out his pledge that he would quit the upper legislative chamber as soon as the Senate redistricting bill was acted upon.

The plain fact of the matter, however, is that it is impractical for Mr. Gibbs to resign from the Senate at this stage of the year.

It is too late for a special election to be held to fill his place in the Senate, and if such an election were now staged it would be a waste of public funds.

Mayor Gibbs had the highest of motives in remaining in the Senate for the first five months of this year. He did so in order to vote against the bill which would split Newton into two senatorial districts and create a weird political muddle in the city.

When Gibbs was elected Mayor last November, he announced that he would resign from the Senate at the end of the year.

Then, however, it developed that the Democratic leadership in the Senate was working out a plan to divide the Commonwealth into new senatorial districts.

At the start of this year it appeared that bill might be passed or defeated by a single vote. That probably would have been the case had not changes been made to appease some balky Democratic Solons.

Gibbs actually kept faith with the people of Newton because he gave his resignation to Republican Senate Leader Fred I. Lamson last January. Lamson, however, did not submit the resignation to the Senate because he wanted Gibbs' vote on the redistricting issue.

Both Lamson and Gibbs knew that if Gibbs' relinquished his seat in the Senate the Democrats would bring in their Gerrymander plan before Gibbs' successor could be elected.

Now Mayor Gibbs has submitted his resignation from the Senate, but President John E. Powers, fortunately, has declined to accept it.

The sensible thing for Mr. Gibbs to do is to serve out the balance of this legislative session.

It is entirely within the realm of possibility that some matter still might arise in the Senate which would be of importance to the people of Newton.

All that would be accomplished by Mayor Gibbs' resignation at this time would be to leave the people of Newton with no representation whatever in the Senate for the balance of this year.

What Mayor Gibbs should do in the interest of Newton and its citizens is to withdraw his resignation, to continue to apply himself to his municipal duties, as he has been doing, but to be recorded on any major measures which come up in the Senate during the final stages of the legislative session.

Political Highlights

Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., floor after a ballot in which no contender polled a majority of the votes. The likelihood is that such an endeavor will be unsuccessful. If that rule is adopted, however, Whit-tier's name might be placed before the convention after the first ballot.

Political observers on Beacon Hill, who have attempted to size up the battling for the GOP gubernatorial endorsement, are doubtful that any of the candidates has enough delegate support to win a first-ballot victory.

They suspect that the outcome of the four-way struggle may hinge on how the votes shift after the opening ballot is taken.

Present indications are that former State Public Works Commissioner Volpe will go into the convention with more delegate support than any of his opponents.

But there is considerable speculation as to what will happen if Volpe fails to win on the first ballot, as he has predicted he will do.

Volpe, Whitmore and Giles all have made what seemingly are optimistic appraisals of their delegate strength. Volpe has been the most optimistic. He has forecast a first-ballot victory for himself.

Ex-Mayor Whitmore has expressed the opinion that he is out front in the race, and he has intimated that he believes Volpe is running second.

Whitmore predicted his nomination but was more moderate in his forecast than Volpe, asserting that he might win on the opening ballot if the trend he found among the delegates continued to build in his favor.

Republican House Leader Giles has estimated that he will poll about 400 votes on the first ballot. That would not be enough to bring him the nomination, but it should be enough to prevent anyone else from gaining a first-ballot victory.

Senator Graham has been the most conservative in analyzing his strength. Graham obviously realizes he is not a front-runner but presumably hopes there may be some shifts to him after the balloting gets underway.

It is apparent that some of the gubernatorial contenders either are over-estimating their own strength or are putting on a brave front in the hope that by doing so it may help them to attract additional support.

Surveys made by political writers indicate that Volpe, Whitmore, Giles and Graham all have fairly substantial backing and that the first-ballot vote may be fairly well split up.

Those spot checks left the impression that the contest for the GOP gubernatorial endorsement will go to two and possibly even three ballots.

The same poll also disclosed that a substantial number of delegates either haven't yet made up their minds or are extremely reticent about disclosing how they will vote.

On the basis of the information they have been able to assemble, political observers generally are disposed to rate Volpe as a slight favorite over Whitmore to emerge from the convention as the Republican nominee for Governor.

They add that a good deal may depend on where the delegates backing Giles and Graham shift if and when it becomes apparent that neither of the two has the basic strength to win the nomination.

As a matter of practical politics, however, when such shifts occur, the greater beneficiary of them usually is the candidate out in front, for delegates traditionally like to be with the winner.

The political pundits expect that the Republican conclave will come up with either a Volpe-Whitmore or Whitmore-Volpe ticket.

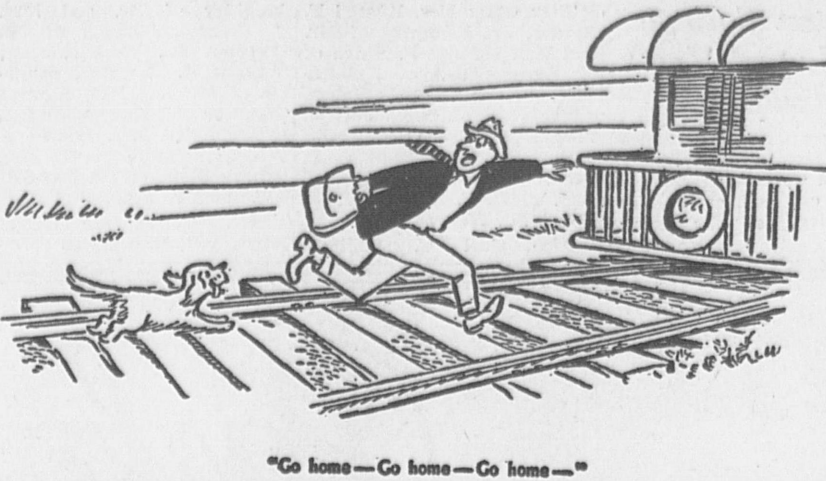

In other words, it is anticipated that if Volpe wins the gubernatorial endorsement, he will ask Whitmore to accept the nomination for Lieutenant Governor in the interest of party harmony.

And if Whitmore becomes the nominee for Governor, it is expected that he will request Volpe to accept second place on the GOP State ticket.

That would mean that Governor's Councillor August Means of Essex, who is seeking the endorsement for Lieutenant Governor, would be urged to take some other spot on the Republican slate or run for reelection.

If Volpe is nominated on Saturday as the Republican candidate for Governor, it will be one of the few times on record that the GOP has picked a man to head its State ticket who has never held public office or run for public office.

Unlike the Democratic State Convention to be held a week later at the Boston Arena, the Republican conclave will actually settle the contests for the GOP endorsements for state-wide offices.

The successful conclusion of this Membership Campaign was certainly due in part to the assistance which your newspaper gave in your one-page Chamber of Commerce publicity.

When the assembly is adjourned some time Saturday night, the losing candidates undoubtedly will accept and abide by the decisions the conclave has made.

The actions of the Republican convention will carry greater weight and significance than those of the Democratic conclave the following Saturday, when many of the unsuccessful Democratic aspirants will head immediately for the September primary.

To ignore a mandate of the Republican State Convention is considered political suicide. To disregard a decision of the Democratic State Convention is common, ordinary procedure.

That is one of the big differences in the philosophies of the two political parties in Massachusetts. It is why Saturday's GOP convention will be of such great importance.

convention floor at the GOP assembly.

Both former Mayor Whitmore and his backers expressed confidence today that he will be picked by Saturday's conclave to team with Senator Leverett Saltonstall at the head of the Republican State ticket.

They reported that Whitmore has been steadily gaining strength this week as uncommitted delegates climbed down from the fence and took sides in the four-way race for the GOP gubernatorial endorsement.

As the battle for the Republican nomination for Governor neared its climax, it presented a rather confusing and puzzling picture to political experts endeavoring to forecast what will happen at the conclave this weekend.

Former State Public Works

Commissioner John A. Volpe of Winchester was rated by most observers as a slight favorite to emerge from Saturday's convention as the Republican candidate for the Governorship.

Ex-Mayor Whitmore was believed running a strong second to Volpe.

Republican House Leader Frank S. Giles of Methuen and State Senator Philip A. Graham of Hamilton appear to be back in third and fourth positions respectively.

But the supporters of Giles and Graham may settle the battle between Volpe and Whitmore when they shift their votes after the early balloting.

The political pundits consider it unlikely that anyone will be nominated on the first ballot.

That means there will be a good deal of maneuvering after the weakest candidate is eliminated. The outcome of the fight may determine whether the shifts which occur at that time benefit Volpe or Whitmore.

Should Volpe gain the gubernatorial nomination, it is generally expected that he will request Whitmore to accept the endorsement for Lieutenant Governor in order to present a united party front.

Some observers feel, incidentally, that Volpe may be in trouble and that Whitmore may surge to the front if Volpe fails to fulfill his prediction of a first-ballot victory.

Following are the Newton delegates to the Republican State Convention, all of whom plan to back Ex-Mayor Whitmore:

Ward 1 — Mayor Donald L. Gibbs and Republican City Committee Chairman Carleton P. Merrill.

Plan $100,000 Scholarship To Aid Women

The Women's Scholarship Association plans a $100,000 fund-raising campaign this fall as a result of the increased demand for scholarship aid and increased college tuition. Announcement of the coming drive was made at the organization's Strawberry Festival held at New England Mutual Hall in Boston.

It was made by Mrs. Alfred Keene of Grove street, Newton, the Association's Public Relations Director. She said the decision to conduct the drive was made after the Board agreed on her suggestion that the need for additional funds had become urgent.

Mrs. Keene said solicitation of businessmen, civic leaders, philanthropists and others interested in higher education for women will begin soon. Contributions to Women's Scholarship Association's Capital Funds drive will be sought so the work of the organization can continue on a full-scale basis.

The Association elected Mrs. Henry H. Nadell of Newton as president for the second successive year. Also named to executive positions in the group were:

Mrs. Harold Hollicker, Mrs. Frederick Penn and Mrs. Jason Sacks of Newton, vice-presidents; Mrs. Eugene S. Rubin, Newton, recording secretary; Mrs. James Levensohn, Brookline, treasurer; Mrs. Hyman Waldman, Brookline, assistant treasurer.

Also, Mrs. Erick Thormann, Newton, financial secretary; Mrs. Irving Backman, Newton, assistant financial secretary; Mrs. David Alperin, Newton, corresponding secretary and Mrs. Stanton David, assistant corresponding secretary.

Featured speaker at the annual dinner of the Association was Dr. Mary I. Bunting, new president of Radcliffe College, in her first public address since her inauguration. She said more scholarship aid for women must be made available because "the biggest waste of talent in this country is women."

TELE- VIEWING THE NEWS

By LEE LOUMOS

TV producers are always watching their ears to the ground to find out just what programs TV audiences like best, trying to plan ahead of the "trends" and come up with a show that will "hit big" and stay there. Often, they guess expensively wrong. And to make it even harder on them, viewers in different parts of the country like different shows.

According to one set of ratings, people in Cincinnati and Houston like "Wagon Train" best. But in Chicago, "Wagon Train" isn't even among the first ten. There, the top show is "The Danny Thomas Show," which in turn doesn't make the top ten in the other two cities. But Chicago and Houston agree on "The Bob Hope Show," both putting it in the No. 3 spot, while Cincinnati leaves it out of their 10 best. And Chicago and Cincinnati both list "77 Sunset Strip," and Houston leaves it out.

"Difference of opinion makes a horse race," and apparently a variety of TV tastes, too. But no matter which shows you like best, you'll enjoy them more on a magnificent Magnavox Videorama. This all-inclusive entertainment center has not only big screen TV, but also a stereo hi-fi phonograph, and a superb FM/AM radio, too. And all in a beautiful decorator cabinet. Come in and see it soon.

And remember, every Friday night from 7:30 to 8:30 is open house for demonstration of the new Thomas choral transistor organ—hear it or play it yourself, you will be amazed at such versatility for so little money.

Ward is regarded as one of the leading contenders for the gubernatorial endorsement at next week's Democratic pre-primary convention.

In his statement, Secretary Ward detailed a 23-point program which he said is "de-

Mother Of 2 Awarded Junior College Degree

A young Newton matron, Mrs. Herbert M. Nollman, busy mother of two young school children and an attractive brunette, was the proud recipient of an Association Arts degree at colorful commencement exercises of Newton Junior College held at the Memorial Auditorium, Newton City Hall, yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Nollman, who resides at 65 Elinor road, Newton Highlands, has been studying at the college as a part-time and full-time student since September, 1957.

She held a diploma from the Jeremiah E. Burke High School in Dorchester but entered the Junior College without credits.

She attained a high scholastic average at once and maintained leadership in her class throughout her terms at the local school. She is an honors student at the college.

She qualified for her degree in general studies and plans to pursue her baccalaureate degree at Boston University.

When queried about her plans after Boston University, she said, "Well, I hope to put my knowledge to work."

She did admit some misgivings about competing with the younger minds at Newton Junior College, fresh from secondary schools. However, college authorities were quick to affirm that the housewife and mother never experienced any difficulty keeping up with her younger classmates.

She was a member of the student committee for Better Facilities for the college and was an ardent contributor to opinions freely expressed on affairs of local, regional, national and international importance at the popular Wednesday morning public discussion periods at the college. She joined with other students in levelling the questions at well known guests.

Her husband, a manufacturer's representative, caught the college fever and has been a constant and

MRS. HERBERT NOLLMAN satisfied participant in the college's social and intellectual activities.

Mrs. Nollman is a member of the Oak Hill Hadassah and the Newton Democratic Club. She did admit that her activities in these directions have been somewhat hampered since she set foot on the trail to higher education.

The Nollman children, David, age 12, and Richard, age 8, are students at the Country-side Day School. The Nollmans have resided in Newton for the past 10 years.

Junior College Boosts Fees For Non-Residents

A tuition rate increase for non-resident students at Newton Junior College from $450 to $500 per year was voted by the Newton School Committee and announced by Director Walter M. Taylor today. The rate for Newton residents remains at $400.

Director Taylor announced a corresponding increase in the per-semester-hour rate for part-time students—from $15 to $18. He pointed out the latter increase was made necessary by the former: it would have been less expensive to pursue college work at the part-time than at the full-time rate.

Newton's tuition, already the highest of any publicly-controlled institution of higher education in New England, is still lower than that of most colleges. Unlike most colleges, Newton is expected to operate at little or no cost to the sponsoring agency, the City of Newton. In 1956-57, says Mr. Taylor, 96.4 per cent of the total costs of operation and maintenance were borne by the students themselves. This was the highest percentage reported in the country.

Costs at other publicly-controlled junior colleges are slightly lower than at Newton. At the new Berkshire Community College, where the tuition is $200 a year, costs were estimated at $512 per year, the Commonwealth picking up the $312 per student deficit. This figure, $512 of cost, is also the cost (1957-8) of the teachers' colleges. The comparable figure at the state university is over $800 and does not include any of the costs of capital outlay or most of the costs of maintenance and overhead.

Community college education in Newton is still seen by Mr. Taylor as a bargain for the many students for whom soaring costs of higher education necessitates living at home.

Newton Girl Featured At Festiv'l Ballet

Twenty-year-old Judith Green of Newton Centre returns to Boston for the first time in her role as a new and ranking ballerina with the New York City Ballet Company.

She will dance two important solos at the Boston Arts Festival when the Andre Egleyevsky Ballet Company presents four evening performances in the Public Gardens tonight (Thursday) through Sunday.

Judith Green will dance to Tchaikovsky's "Pas de Deux" with choreography by Marius Petipa, and Minkus' "Pas de Trois," with choreography by George Balanchine. Her partner will be Edward Villella, a sensation of this year's ballet season.

The ballet program, featuring a world premiere of a new ballet especially created for the ninth annual Boston Arts Festival, is one of the highlights of the 17 evening performances which began June 3.

Tall, slender dark-haired Judith Green began studying for her career at an early age in Boston. Since then her rise in the dance world has been swift and steady. She has been termed by leading dance critics as the ballet company's fastest shooting star.

Judith's technique and grace impressed her instructors at George Balanchine's famous American School of Ballet during her 1954 East vacation trip to New York for supplementary lessons. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hyman Greenbaum of 271 Greenwood St., Newton Centre, were urged to allow her to study ballet on a full-time basis.

She was just 14½ at the time. At 15 she was selected to become a member of the corps de ballet, and at 18 Australian audiences watched her perform Glinka's "Pas de Trois," her first solo.

Since then she has danced feature roles all over the world, from Japan to Denmark. Last April, on the eve of her 20th birthday, she was elevated to the rank of ballerina of the New York City Ballet Company.

Newton Night At Fenway Park Saturday

It'll be Newton Night at Fenway Park this Saturday (June 11) the sixth annual such event sponsored by the Newton Kiwanis Club.

The Boston Red Sox play the Chicago White Sox in a make-up game that evening, and since this is not an originally scheduled game, a better-than-usual selection of tickets is available.

Paul Keating and William Marchant are co-chairmen of the event, which raises money for the club's Underprivileged Children's Fund.

Assisting on the committee are William Paul, Frank Dowcett, Lee Loumos, William Duffy, Frank Lombardi, Robert Green, Alex Castoldi and Carl Recco.

Tickets may be obtained from any Kiwanis member or the following locations: Hubbard Drug Store, Highland Pharmacy, Lombardi Pharmacy, Riggs Flower Shop or by calling Mr. Keating at LA 7-5500.

"Bozo" Stars At Oak Hill Country Fair

"Bozo," the loved TV clown, complete with red wig, oversized shoes and bulbous nose, will be the star attraction Saturday morning (June 11) at the Oak Hill School PTA Country Fair to be held on the Oak Hill School grounds on Wheeler road.

The Fair originally was scheduled to be held last Saturday but was postponed because of the down-pour.

Features of the Country Fair will include a colorful entertainment program, amusements and refreshments for the whole family.

Highland Branch Safe Says MTA

The MTA has begun replacement of shock absorbers to improve the riding quality of cars on the bumpy Highland Branch and an accelerated program of track and roadbed overhaul is underway.

These were highlights of a letter from Anthony D. Pompeo, chairman of the MTA Board of Trustees, sent to William L. Bruce, president of the Newton Centre Improvement Association.

The Association had protested the excessive speed of MTA cars and the fact that the bumpiness of the ride seemed to reach a peak between Newton Centre and the Chestnut Hill stop.

"The complaint that vehicles on the Highland Branch provide an uncomfortable ride is, in part, true, but be assured that it does not provide an unsafe ride," Pompeo said following a survey of conditions on the line made by the Transit Research Corporation.

In relations to the safety of the line, Chairman Pompeo wrote to Mr. Bruce: "the entire operation has been authorized by the Department of Public Utilities after examination of equipment, roadbed and rails. Maximum speeds of vehicles on this line have been set by the D.P.U."

As spokesman for a group of Newton Centre MTA riders Bruce had wondered whether "given the right combination of wind, excessive speed of operation and roadbed conditions, a car might jump the tracks."

Newton Soldier Appointed To Command 94th Division

One of Newton's most distinguished citizens, a noted citizen soldier and combat veteran of General George S. Patton's hard-hitting Third Army, has been appointed to the position of commanding general of New England's largest reserve army division, the 94th.

Brigadier General Michael J. Galvin, of 107 Hobart Street, Newton, is a working soldier and rose from a humble private in the same division, a rank he held in 1928. The 94th, a Panatomic Unit, is one of the ten streamlined nuclear divisions in the nation. Comprising 8000 Massachusetts citizen soldiers, it is responsible for second line defense of the northeastern United States.

General Galvin, one of the youngest and most highly decorated general officers in the Army, is the holder of the Silver Star, Bronze Star, Legion of Merit and Croix de Guerre.

He is a graduate of the Command and General Staff school and is a combat veteran with 309 consecutive days under fire with General Patton's Third Army in World War II.

A prominent Boston attorney, he is former Under

Secretary of Labor, the author of three books on national defense, a member of the President's Advisory Council on Manpower and Defense, is President of the Massachusetts Reserve Officers Association, and a recognized national authority on nuclear warfare and defense.

The Newton soldier is an "up from the ranks" touch all stops along the way, veteran who has worked at all phases of the military trade on the way. He enlisted as a private in this same unit in 1928. The Galvins have five children, all of whom reside in Newton. They are: Patricia, Noreen, Priscilla, Gail and Michael, Jr.

General Galvin will replace Major General C. D. Merrill on July 1st. Merrill, veteran of three wars, retires after 42 years service.

Dignitaries included Dr. Shannon McCune, provost of the Univ. of Massachusetts, the commencement speaker; William D. Young of Newton, assistant to the Commissioner of Education; Wendell R. Bauckman, president of the Newton Board of Aldermen.

Also, Dr. Charles E. Brown, incoming superintendent of Newton schools; Kenneth P. White, resigned Dean of the College who becomes director of Quincy's Junior College; Rev. William J. Flanagan of St. Philip Neri Church, Auburndale, and Rabbi Murray Rothman of Temple Shalom of West Newton.

Director of the College, Walter M. Taylor, presented the graduating class to Haskell Freedman, chairman of the Newton School Committee, who awarded the degrees and certificates. Mr. Taylor is leaving the College to become executive director of the Mass. Board of Regional Community Colleges.

Fisher Again Heads Red Cross As Chapter Chairman In Newton

Frederick G. Fisher Jr., was elected chapter chairman at the annual meeting of the Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross held at the Vaban Neighborhood Club.

Other officers also were re-elected. They were Frederick V. Atherton and Allen T. Haw as vice-chairmen, Mrs. George P. Norton of West Newton as secretary, and Francis C. Chase of West Newton as treasurer.

Chairman Fisher described the work of the preceding year and outlined plans for future activity. He expressed especial gratification with the services of all the volunteers.

Speaker of the evening was Prof. Robert C. Wood of M.I.T., who discussed the "profession of politics in the future."

Prof. Wood said the young professional man who was leaving the nation's universities and colleges should accept the challenge to engage in public service as the country emerges into a new stage of political development.

The first stage, he said, encompassed the years following the formation of the U.S.; the second stage was the reaction of the newer elements to the

Stormy Struggles Forecast For Democratic Convention

The Democratic State Convention to be held at the Boston Arena this weekend will be more uproarious, spectacular and colorful than the Republican conclave in Worcester last Saturday. It probably will reduce more bitterness.

Greater uncertainty surrounds several of the battles or Democratic endorsements than was the case when the republican delegates gathered to pick their party's State ticket.

Not only is there widespread doubt as to the outcome of the struggles for the nomination for Governor, Lieutenant Governor and Secretary of State, but the exact lineups of candidates who will be in those fights are not yet finally known.

Attorney General Edward J. McCormack, Jr., and State Auditor Thomas J. Buckley apparently will be renominated by acclamation and without opposition. They are the only Democratic office-seekers who will not be forced to battle for their endorsements.

Governor Furcolo will be endorsed for the U.S. Senate but only after a contest in which some votes will be cast against him. Political analysts will be watching closely to determine the extent of the opposition to Furcolo within the Democratic convention.

In the field against Furcolo are Mayor Thomas J. O'Connor, Jr., of Springfield and District Attorney Edmund Dinis of New Bedford. Middlesex County Register of Deeds Edmund C. Buckley has indicated

Rezoning Brings Land Court Suit

The Suffolk County Land Court has set Wednesday, July 6, for a hearing on court action started by a Newton land owner against the vote of the Board of Aldermen last year which rezoned from Residence 'D' to Limited Manufacturing a tract of land on North and Farwell streets, Newtonville.

Rose Gringero, owner of 38 lots of land abutting the rezoned land, filed the legal action and alleged that the rezoning was "unreasonable, arbitrary and capricious."

The legal action named the City of Newton, the Board of Aldermen and its members, and sought an injunction against the owner of the rezoned land, Thomas F. McDonald which would allow him use of the land only for Residence "D" purposes.

The McDonald land was the first in the city to be placed in the new Limited Manufacturing zone which was set up in September, 1959.

Thirteen Injured In Seven Newton Accidents

Thirteen persons were injured, none seriously in seven accidents in the Garden City last week.

Mark Jepson, of 1 Walnut Park, Newtonville, was treated for head injuries at Newton-Wellesley Hospital after the lad had been struck at Central ave. and Central Terr. Sunday.

Five motorists were injured as two cars swerved to avoid another bicyclist and crashed head-on at Jewett and Washington sts. Taken to the Newton-Wellesley Hospital after the crash were Sydney Beals, 80, of 69 Hillside ave., West Newton, and his passenger, Charles R. Hillier, 16, of Watertown. The driver and two passengers in the second car, all Worcester residents,

Principals Named For Newton's 2 Hi Schools

The appointment of Richard W. Mechem, principal of the Walnut Hills High School in Cincinnati, O., as principal of Newton High School replacing Harold Howe, III, was announced Tuesday by School Committee Chairman Haskell Freedman.

Three other changes also were announced.

They were:

The transfer of Dr. Donald K. Davidson from his position as principal of Weeks Jr. High School to the same post at the new Newton South High School.

The resignation of Dr. Harry Anderson as principal of the Clafin Elementary School. Dr. Anderson will devote full time to his position as Director of Undergraduate Activities at Boston University.

Curtis And Gibbs Battle Loss Of Newton Postmark

Congressman Laurence Curtis and Mayor Donald L. Gibbs were engaged in an all-out fight this week to prevent Newton from becoming a whistletop in the postal system.

Boston postal authorities have been moving forward with plans for having all outgoing Newton mail collected in the late afternoon or early evening shipped into the South postal district for processing and cancellation, starting July 5.

Such a step would mean the elimination of the Newton postmark on the great bulk of business mail from the city. It also would mean that Newton no longer would be listed as a postal station.

But Congressman Curtis and Mayor Gibbs make it plain, that will not happen if they can help it.

Both Curtis and Gibbs are strenuously opposed to the plan Postmaster Ephraim Martin would like to put in operation.

Curtis already has talked with postal authorities in Washington and has conferred on the matter with Boston Postmaster Martin. Gibbs has lodged a forceful protest with Postmaster Martin and is to meet with Martin some time next week.

Senator Leverett Saltonstall, who was principally responsible for Martin's appointment as postmaster, also reportedly has stepped into the situation and is endeavoring to make some sense of it.

When officials of the Newton Chamber of Commerce

Newtonites In Demonstration For Whitmore

Peppy City Clerk Monte G. Basbas headed the demonstration for former Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., at last Saturday's Republican State Convention in Worcester. Many prominent Newton leaders, including Mayor Donald L. Gibbs and several Aldermen, participated in the show of sentiment for Whitmore.

The demonstration put on for Whitmore actually was the biggest, most colorful and enthusiastic put on at the GOP conclave.

1,000 Here Get Chest X-ray Test

Some 1,000 Newton employees were x-rayed at local plants as part of a chest x-ray survey conducted by the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association last week.

The survey, requested by one of the industries, was made in cooperation with the city and state health departments. It was offered to many Newton plants as a good health measure.

Mrs. David Weisberger arranged the volunteers' part in manning the unit and helping process data necessary to carry out the program. Among those who worked on the program were Mrs. Maud Kemp, Mrs. Arthur Wood, Mrs. George Braeland, Mrs. Rob-

Strike Delays School Work

A strike of some 250 bricklayers, stone masons and plasterers will delay work on a plastering contract at Newton South High School, construction of new dormitories at Boston College and other smaller projects in Newton.

The walkout, ordered by Local 32, which covers Wellesley, Needham and Dover as well as Newton, began Monday. An estimated 850 members of the Boston and Waltham bricklayers' locals have been on strike since May 20.

Oppose Old Mason Rice Parking Lot

Both the Newton Chamber of Commerce and the Newton Taxpayers Association oppose a proposal to make the site of the old Mason School into a metered, municipal parking lot.

The two organizations voiced their opposition to the plan proposed by the Newton Centre Improvement Association at a hearing Monday night before the Planning Board and the Adelmanic Claims and Rules Committee. Executive Director Justin T. Horan of the Chamber of Commerce, suggested a combination store, office and apartment building for the site, with sufficient off-street parking.

The Taxpayers Association was registered in opposition by Executive Director Lorenz F. Muther Jr., of 44 Joslyn Rd., Waban.

Ex-Mayor Probably Waged His Last Political Fight

A dejected delegation of Newton Republicans returned home from the GOP State Convention in Worcester after seeing former Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., defeated by former State Public Works Commissioner John A. Volpe for the endorsement for Governor.

Their disappointment was heightened by two factors:

1. No effort was made by Volpe to persuade Whitmore to accept a lesser place on the Republican State ticket after the gubernatorial battle was settled.

2. On the convention eve, before the back-stage maneuvering and shifts began, Whitmore and Volpe appeared to be running almost neck and neck, and the three-term Newton Mayor seemed to have an excellent chance of emerging as his party's nominee for Governor.

But after the delegates began converging on Worcester for the conclave it became apparent that supporters of Republican House Leader Frank S. Giles of Methuen were shifting to Volpe in substantial numbers.

The extent of the shifts did not become fully evident until the roll call of the delegations was started and Volpe began to assume a commanding lead.

Whitmore made an excellent showing, rolling up more than 400 votes. He would have been in a strong position and within striking distance of Volpe if Giles had shown anywhere near his anticipated strength.

The swing of Giles delegates to Volpe, however, sent the former State Public Works head so far out in front that Volpe's nomination was assured even before the roll call was completed.

Whitmore, along with Giles and State Senator Philip A. Graham of Hamilton, walked to the centre of the stage in the big Worcester auditorium and made Volpe's nomination unanimous.

That action apparently rang down the curtain on ex-Mayor Whitmore's illustrious political career. Persons close to him say it is unlikely that he will ever stand for office again.

Whether Whitmore would have accepted second place on the GOP State ticket is uncertain. The fact that he was not offered it surprised many seasoned political observers.

One other Newtonite won

Cochrane Plans To Quit School Board

School Committeeman John P. Cochrane is planning to resign from the Newton School Board, The Graphic learned today.

Mr. Cochrane, who resides at 14 Jameson road and is the School Committeeman from Ward 7, probably will submit his resignation before the School Board meets a week from next Monday night for its final session of the summer.

The meeting held on Monday night of this week may have been the last he will attend.

A retired sales executive, Committeeman Cochrane intends to move from Newton to Florida next month. He has served on the School Committee for the last four and a half years.

Under the city charter, the members of the Board of Aldermen and School Committee will meet in joint session to pick a successor to Mr. Cochrane after he submits his resignation.

Because of the nature of the chest x-ray, any abnormality of the chest or thoracic cavity may be seen and studied with the use of the film. Once some difficulty is suspected, there must be more tests and observations, often including more diagnostic x-rays, before a final diagnosis can be determined and treatment begun.

The screening x-ray survey is merely an opportunity for supposedly healthy people to make sure that they are staying well by "checking-up" on the internal organs of the chest area.

going Newton mail into effect on June 1.

Congressman Curtis made so forceful a fight against the move at that time, however, that the idea was dropped.

Now postal authorities are proposing to put the change into effect on July 5.

But Congressman Curtis again has moved into the fight, and the expectation is that the plan once again will be dropped. If it isn't, the irate protests in Washington will echo all the way to Washington.

established pattern; and the third stage is the responsibility of the newer elements to work with the "old guard" to make a better and finer country.

Gilbert J. Champagne was given a 25-year award for volunteer service in First Aid and Water Safety.

Members of the executive committee are William E. Hallday Jr., of Auburndale; Anthony Juaragay, of Newton Centre; Mrs. James H. Mitchell of Waban; Walter P. O'Neill, of Newton; and Francis J. Vaas, Newton Centre.

Elected to the Board of Directors for the years 1960-62 were Mrs. Morris Harold Adler, Rev. Benjamin Anders, Mrs. Philip K. Brown, Philip Caciatore, Mrs. James Coleman, Paul Crocker, Stanley J. Ebb, Ralph B. endorsement at the Republican assembly, and another was defeated.

Attorney George Michaels was endorsed for Attorney General and will oppose Attorney General Edward J. McCormack, Jr., in the November election.

Michaels, who served as an Assistant Attorney General under the late George Fingold, was leading State Senator William E. Hays of Waltham by a margin of 381 to 102 after the delegations in 17 of the 40 senatorial districts had reported their votes.

At that point Senator Hays stopped the roll call and conceded the endorsement to his Newton opponent. Michaels resides at 62

Edward J. O'Donoghue of Newton was a late and unsuccessful aspirant for endorsement for State Treasurer. He polled 107 votes on the first ballot in a contest that ended with the nomination of Walter J. Trybulski of Chicopee midway through the second ballot.

If the 1960 Republican State Convention witnessed the last political fight by ex-Mayor Whitmore, he bowed out in a blaze of glory.

The 28-member Newton delegation to the GOP assembly supported him solidly and in a bloc.

Hundreds of other Newton residents, including many public and civic leaders, journeyed to Worcester to take part in the demonstration for Whitmore.

As Whitmore's name was placed before the convention, his admirers streamed down from the balcony and in from the outer corridors to manifest their esteem, regard and affection for the man who headed Newton's city government for six years.

The demonstration for Whitmore was the biggest, most colorful and most enthusiastic staged at the convention.

Dr. Robert S. Friedman, chairman of the school committee, presented the diplomas, graduation awards were made by Benjamin M. Sriberg, president of the Temple, and Dr. Martin Goldstein, educational director, offered the readings.

A Hebrew Kindergarten has been formed at Temple Emeth for the coming school year. The class will be open children who are five years old, and will be in the general nature of a continuation of the present nursery school at the Temple.

Rabbi Zev Nelson, has stressed the importance of the Kindergarten in the religious education of the child, and the "wonderful opportunity it will afford five-year-olds to learn to speak Hebrew."

Registration for the 1960 season of Temple Reyim's Hebrew School and primary school will take place beginning today (Thursday) between 6 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. and on Sunday (June 19) from 9:30 a.m. to 12 noon.

Dr. Ernest Blaustein, chairman of the school committee, said the recommended age for entering boys and girls in the Hebrew School is eight years. However, children who have reached their seventh birthday and are not older than nine and a half this coming Fall will be considered eligible.

All registration will be at the Temple, 1860 Washington street, Newton.

This is the tenth year this camp is being conducted for the children enrolled in the various Hebrew schools in Newton, Brookline and Brighton and for children who plan to enroll in one of the schools in the Fall.

Our postal authorities are so progressive that we wouldn't be surprised to learn some day that they are planning to revive the pony express.

It doesn't seem conceivable that the service ordered by the postoffice brass could be any worse than it is, but if there is any way of making it so, our postal officials can be depended upon to figure it out.

Once again they have revived the scheme of having the Newton mail collected in the late afternoon, which includes most of the letters mailed by business and industrial concerns in the city, shipped into the South Postal Station for processing.

That would mean that Newton would have no postmark and that mail sent out by Newton business firms in the afternoon would carry a Boston postmark.

It also would mean that if one resident in Newton mailed a letter in the afternoon to another resident in Newton, the letter would be carried into the South Postal Station to be postmarked and then would be trucked back to Newton again. Somehow that does not strike us as the height of efficiency.

Someone surely is going to write a song one of these days about the postal rates going up-up-up and the service going down-down-down. It wouldn't be surprising if the Democrats were to make passing mention of it in the campaign next fall.

Meanwhile, however, Congressman Laurence Curtis and Mayor Donald L. Gibbs are making a forceful endeavor to block the latest ridiculous move proposed by postal authorities. It is to be hoped they can persuade the postal officials that their scheme is both unfair to Newton and somewhat ludicrous.

A Gracious Loser

Newton had reason to be proud of former Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., even though he failed in his quest for the Republican nomination for Governor.

He put on a strong fight, made an extremely creditable showing, and when he lost he accepted his defeat in the most gracious and sportsmanlike fashion.

Mr. Whitmore proved in most convincing fashion that those who had supported him for the Governorship made no mistake in doing so.

Political Highlights

he will challenge Furcolo in the September primary but not in this week's convention.

Ordinarily a sitting Governor would be unopposed for whatever office he was seeking. Furcolo, however, has not endeared himself to certain elements in the Democratic party.

Lieutenant Governor Robert F. Murphy and Secretary of State Joseph D. Ward appear to be coming down the home stretch in a tight race for the Democratic nomination for Governor.

The outcome of their fight may hinge on developments on the eve of the convention or possibly on Friday night between the convention sessions.

Several prominent Democratic figures, who probably could influence a sizeable number of delegates, haven't yet taken sides in the Ward-Murphy conflict.

It's also possible that a late entry of a third candidate might drastically change the complexion of the gubernatorial picture.

A majority of the political experts on Beacon Hill believe that if the battle for the Democratic nomination for Governor remains a two-man struggle between Ward and Murphy, the winner will be Ward.

However, spot checks made by this writer among the delegates who will do the voting disclosed more support for Murphy than for Ward.

The survey was not extensive enough to be conclusive or to dispute the judgment of the political pundits who have made Ward the favorite. But it was extensive enough to show that Murphy has pretty substantial backing among grass roots Democrats, possibly more than some of the seers realize.

One reason for the tendency of many observers to rate Ward the favorite over Murphy is that Murphy has carried on what amounts to a feud with Governor Furcolo, starting from the day Murphy opposed Furcolo's sales tax bill.

Ward has been a less controversial figure than Murphy for the past two years. He remained silent on such issues as the sales tax and is on friendly terms with virtually all the factions which make up the Democratic party in Massachusetts.

It would be pretty risky, nevertheless, to under-estimate Murphy as a candidate for the Governorship.

Murphy never has lost a convention fight. He has been nominated once for Governor, twice for Lieutenant Governor.

Ward was endorsed for Attorney General by the 1956 Democratic State Convention and was defeated for endorsement for the same office at the 1958 conclave.

Murphy has never lost a state-wide primary fight. Ward has never won one. Murphy has won two out of three state-wide elections. Ward has never been a nominee in a state-wide election.

Murphy was elected Lieutenant Governor in 1956 and was overwhelmingly reelected in 1958. Ward was appointed Secretary of State by the Legislature early in 1959 following the death of the late Edward J. Cronin.

Those are all factors which undecided, on-the-fence delegates are weighing as they deliberate between Murphy and Ward. The survey by this observer indicated that there still are a large number of uncommitted delegates who have adopted a wait-and-see attitude.

Whoever emerges as the choice of the convention will have to battle State Treasurer John F. Kennedy in the primary, and it's possible the conclave may settle nothing.

Murphy will run in September, irrespective of what happens this weekend. If Ward fails to obtain the convention endorsement, however, he probably will drop down and seek another place on the State ticket.

Nine received degrees at the 259th exercises of Yale University held at the New Haven, Conn., Campus. They were ELIEZER ERELI, 71 Hammondswood rd., LLB; WILLIAM S. KADEN, 748 Boylston st., MD; CHARLES E. MASON III of 206 Chestnut Hill rd., AB, all of Chestnut Hill;

STEPHEN H. ARNOLD, 156 Langdon rd., MA, BRIAN R. KENNEY, 151 Plymouth rd., BA and HOWARD WHITMORE III, 54 Carver rd., BA of Newton; IRENE R. PETRONE, 6 Dudley rd., Master of Public Health, Newton Centre; SAUL R. HILFER, 47 Newtonville ave., PhD, of Newtonville.

Boston City Council President Edward F. McLaughlin, Jr., close personal and political friend of Senator John F. Kennedy, appears to be leading in the race for the Democratic endorsement for Lieutenant Governor.

That contest however, is so confused that at the time this is written most political on-lookers aren't sure who the contenders will be at the convention.

Executive Councillor Ernest C. Stasiun of Fairhaven, Executive Councillor Abraham H. Kahalas of Dorchester and Associate Labor Commissioner Pasquale Caggiano of Lynn are announced candidates.

Former Executive Councillor Endicott Peabody of Cambridge and John L. Saltonstall, Jr., of Brookline, Democratic nominee for Congress two years ago, are among the others who are eyeing the situation.

Representative John T. Driscoll of Dorchester seems to have the Democratic nomination for State Treasurer pretty well sewed up. From all indications Driscoll has lined up enough support to win on the first ballot even though he has two adversaries in the field against him.

Former Representative John F. Cremens of Cambridge is the strongest challenger against Driscoll. Joseph Dever, nephew of the late Governor Paul A. Dever, also is in the contest for the endorsement for Treasurer. So far he has shown none of the political magic of his uncle.

A lively clash will be waged for the Democratic nomination for Secretary of State.

A sturdy darkhorse candidate in that battle is Assistant District Attorney Kevin H. White, son of Boston City Councillor Joseph C. White. The younger White has been busily lining up delegates and delegations, and his father for years has been one of the most popular and respected Democratic leaders in Boston.

Assistant District Attorney White is a graduate of Tabor Academy, Williams College and Boston College Law School. An Assistant District Attorney for the past four years, he is a member of the Board of Governors of the Catholic Lawyer's Guild.

Executive Councillor Edward J. Cronin, a Watertown eye doctor, is making a vigorous bid for nomination as Secretary of State. Also in the field is former Boston City Councillor Francis X. Ahearn of Brighton.

The Democratic State Convention promises to be a long and stormy one. Except for the foresight of Democratic State Committee Chairman John M. Lynch in scheduling a session Friday afternoon it is likely that the Democratic proceedings would run well into the early hours of Sunday morning, and they may do so anyway.

Fluoridation Issue

Editor, Newton Graphic:

In your June second issue you carried an advertisement by the so-called Citizens' Rights Association of Newton which made a number of misleading statements. Since your newspaper is dedicated to serve the best interests of our community, I feel it proper to write you to correct some of these points.

1. The "Citizens' Rights Association" is a misnomer. This group has one purpose only: the defeat of attempts by groups of parents to protect the teeth of their children by means of water fluoridation. Every State Supreme Court which has considered this question has ruled that fluoridation does not infringe on the constitutional or legal rights of the individual. A more appropriate name for this anti-fluoridation group might be "Association Against Better Dental Health for Newton's Children".

2. They attempt to mislead your readers by distorting proven medical and dental facts. Fluoridation is a safe, effective, inexpensive and thoroughly proven method of reducing tooth decay by more than half, with consequent reduction of dental bills and pain. There is nothing unscientific about a water fluoridation program, and any high school boy or girl who has studied chemistry for a year knows there is no difference between natural and artificial fluoride.

3. The so-called "Citizens' Rights" group is working against the rights of our citizens to better dental health. They accept, perforce, treatment of our drinking water to protect us against fatal diseases, but not to protect us against the expensive, widely prevalent and, at times, disabling disease of tooth decay. This is cheating us of the right to a better, healthier community. What is the sense of knowing how to improve our community's health if such pressure groups can bar us from taking advantage of this knowledge?

4. Their allegation against our doctors and dentists and their organizations is simply a smokescreen to cover up the fact that medical and dental opinion is overwhelmingly in favor of fluoridation.

We are working to make Newton a better place in which to live and bring up our children. We are forming a Newton citizens' committee for dental health, and welcome all who wish to join us in protecting the rights of our junior citizens.

Where You Save DOES Make a Difference

by don herold

Good goals make good savers

Some people can just save for the sake of saving. For example, they just like the general idea of having a backlog of money in Watertown Federal.

Other people save better if they have a specific purpose in mind, such as: down payment on a home — trip to Paris — new baby — new car — college for Janet or Johnny — play room in basement — new business or farm — possible doctor's bills — other emergencies — comfortable retirement.

Watertown Federal helps your "purpose pile" to grow by paying you good dividends.

Methodist Church To Aid Chilean Victims

An appeal to members of the Newton Methodist Church for "good, usable clothing and blankets" for distribution to victims of the Chilean disaster has been issued by the Rev. Dr. Paul Uhlinger. A special collection will be taken for that purpose on Sunday and a receptacle will be provided in the church to receive donations of clothing and blankets.

Oliver Vannorsdall, Youth Director of the Church, will be the featured tenor soloist with Mrs. Marion Davidson at the organ. Dr. Uhlinger's subject will be "For He Had Compassion."

Heart-warming ceremonies at the Church last week saw the children of the congregation lead the worship as 16 of their number were honored on their promotions.

Four High School Seniors, Miss Friscilla Hopkins, Miss Joan Meyer, Miss Jeanne McGuffin, and Mr. David Hawkins were presented a book, "Youth at Prayer." The three young ladies graduated from Newton High School, Mr. Hawkins from Brown and Nichols School.

Copies of the Methodist Hymnal were presented to the four young people who will be entering Junior High School in the Fall and thus were graduated from the Junior Department of the Church School: Robert Anderson, David Dewsnap, Janice Thompson, and Lloyd Wentzell.

The Revised Standard Version of the Bible, a student's edition, was presented to each of four third graders who graduated from the Primary Department: Paul Boyer, Robert Hizlett, Beth Muir, and Dorothy Wahl. Certificates of promotion were given to four kindergartners, Warren Dieke, Dean Silliker, Lee Wentzell, and Nancy Winkler.

Special recognition was paid to the teaching staff for the year past: Mrs. Elizabeth Latona, general superintendent; Mrs. Elliot Steinman and Mrs. Baker Marston in the "Baby fold;" Miss Elinor Babbitt, Mrs. Jeff Pearcey and Mrs. Philip Harrington in the Nursery; Mrs. Charles Conway and Mrs. Paul Uhlinger in the Kindergarten; Mrs. George Winkler, Mrs. LeRoy Coleman, and Miss Marion Jackson in the Primary Department; Mrs. John Vital and Mr. Philip Harrington in the Junior Department; Miss Jean Robertson in the Intermediate or Junior High group, Oliver Vannorsdall, Director of Youth and leader of the Senior Highs; The Rev. Walter Voll, teacher of the Adult Group and the Rev. Paul Uhlinger, teacher of the Parents group.

Health Dept. Seeks Data On Newton's School Children

The Newton Health Department is introducing a questionnaire concerning the health of children entering Newton schools for the first time in September of this year.

A similar form was used experimentally in one Newton school a year ago. Because of excellent cooperation on the part of parents, the results justified the extension of the use of this form, since much valuable information was made available to the school health staff.

"Children entering school for the first time—and often their parents as well—are subject to new health hazards and stresses," said Dr. Harry T. Phillips, Director of the Health Department.

"Communicable diseases and other physical and emotional health problems often arise, or are made worse, during the first few months of school life. For this and other reasons, special attention should be given to the health care of children at this period."

The questionnaire is intended to help school health personnel in promoting and guarding the health of pupils. It has been developed as part of the study of the role of the physician in the school which is being carried out by the Newton Health Department. This study is receiving support from a grant given by the Charles H. Hood Dairy Foundation.

The form, which has been approved by representatives of the Newton Public School system, asks for information concerning past and present medical history, immunizations, and developmental and behavioral history.

By systematically obtaining information from parents of children entering school, the Newton Health Department hopes to obtain information which will assist in dealing with the problems of individual children and also give a lead in the planning of future services in the school health program.

The questionnaires will be used by school doctors and private physicians in carrying out the examination of school-entering pupils.

"I appeal to parents to see that the forms are carefully

Hills And Falls School Ends Busy Year

Mrs. Bert Rabinowitz of Cliff Road invited the Hills and Falls Nursery School children, teachers and mothers to her lovely home for a picnic to end the school year on a festive note. Everyone brought box lunches, and some of the mothers provided cokes, ice cream and lollipops. This occasion was one of many visits to homes of various parents during the year. This Spring it has been almost a weekly occurrence to go to one of the children's houses for "juice and cracker time." One morning a couple of weeks ago all the four-year-olds went to Sherborn to visit a former classmate and were especially thrilled to see a baby lamb. At another home there were baby kittens. All these experiences have helped to broaden the awareness of the children to the world around them.

At least two exciting trips are planned for the children each Spring. This year the four-year-old group visited the Owen Poultry Farm in Needham. They were accompanied by their teachers, Mrs. Slise, and two student teachers, Miss Banfield and Miss Medwed from Wheelock, and three mothers, Mrs. Robert Plachta, Mrs. Joseph Pittman and Mrs. Duncan Warren. The children were greeted by chickens, ducks, peacocks, geese, pheasants, rabbits and a turkey. They fed dandelions to a sheep they named "Lambie Pie" and to a horse they named "Sugar." Mrs. Slise

By LEE LOUMOS

Enjoying your job is said to be a big step toward doing a good job. And Robert Stark, star of ABC-TV's "The Untouchables," would seem to be a shining example of this philosophy, for he not only enjoys working on the show, but is doing such a good job of it that he's been nominated for an Emmy as best actor.

The part Stark likes best about the show is the era it's set in. "The Roaring 20's," says Stark. "I get a big kick out of the period cars we use in the show. . . they have a feeling of luxury we don't think about today. Remember the flower vases?" He likes the wardrobe, too, especially the multi-buttoned 30's-style vest. "And those stub-pointed, big barreled pens. . . they were worthless under water, but when I hold one I know I've got a pen in my hand," says Bob.

But though he loves the era, he's just as glad he wasn't born 30 years earlier. Says Bob, "I hope to see advances they never dreamed of then." The advances already made in stereo are noteworthy. Take the new Magnavox All-inclusive Stereo Theatre for example. It combines Gold Seal 34" Chromatic TV, FM/AM radio, and hi-fi stereo phonograph into one beautiful decorator cabinet. Come in and see and hear this magnificent Magnavox soon.

And remember, every Friday night from 7:30 to 8:30 is open house for demonstration of the new Thomas choral transistor organ—hear it or play it yourself, you will be amazed at such versatility for so little money.

Ends Career As Decorator To Become School Teacher

Edwin L. Robart of Clearwater road, Newton, found out its never too late in life to realize a dream.

At 48 years of age and after more than 20 years in the interior decorating business, he turned around and became a high school English teacher, an ambition he had harbored since he graduated from college in 1935.

In order to become a teacher he acquired a master's degree in education from Northeastern University's Graduate School.

The formal presentation of the degree will be in ceremonies on Sunday (June 19), in the Boston Garden. Among the spectators will be his wife and their three children, Scott P., 12; Leslie N., 16; and Andrew W., 19.

In a few years he expects to watch his wife obtain her bachelor's degree from Northeastern in similar ceremonies. While he was working for his master's degree, she has been attending Northeastern.

"Getting the family fed and leaving the house to get to classes on time has been a problem," Robart said, explaining both he and his wife worked during the day.

His wife works with the Massachusetts Department of Health as the director of a nursery school for retarded children in Natick. Until the fall of 1959, when he took his teaching job at Brockton High School, he was an interior decorator first with a cousin and then alone.

Commenting on the decision that led up to the shift of jobs, he said, "I often thought it might be too late. People said it would be very difficult."

And as in other types of work he found that once over 40, employers are often reluctant to hire you.

"But, I decided regardless of my age, now is the time to do it," he recalled.

In preparation for his teaching career he began studying evenings at Northeastern back in 1958. At one time he was attending three evenings and one Saturday class.

"It was too much, but I got through it finally," he said. Of assistance to him was credit given for courses he had taken previously. In actuality, he explained, there hasn't been a time since 1935, when he hasn't been going to school. His courses have ranged from production control and plastics to interior decorating and sociology.

While he has been getting what he calls a "baptism of fire" in his first year of teaching, his family has also been maintaining a busy pace.

His oldest son, Andrew, who will enter the University of Denver this fall, is a truck driver for a lumber company.

His daughter works after school in a dry cleaning establishment, while his youngest son has a paper route.

His 85-year-old mother-in-law, who lives with them, also does what she can to help, he related.

These undertakings by various members of the family means that the household is usually in a state of "controlled confusion," but he said, "there is much to be gained."

"We all manage to get together for Sunday dinner any way," he commented.

City Employees Inaugurate Own Blood Program

Employees of the City of Newton this week set in motion machinery for the establishment of a blood bank program for themselves and their families.

The general chairman is C. Evan Johnson, recreation commissioner. The head of each city department appointed one member of his staff to distribute and process enrollment forms for employees desiring to participate. This was done so a work schedule could be arranged with Red Cross officials.

The Red Cross will set up its apparatus for the collection of whole blood in the basement of City Hall on Friday and Thursday of next week.

Times are, Thursday (June 23) and Friday (June 24).

City Council Votes Full Probe Of Newton's Many Housing Problems

Newton's many housing problems including housing for the aged, sub-standard and low rent housing, housing for minority groups, and apartments, are to be examined closely by a Community Council Research Committee.

This was authorized by the Governing Board at their recent meeting at the Council office, according to an announcement by David Berkman, President of the Newton Community Council.

It came about as the result of a study by the Council's

Newton Delegation At Democrat Convention Split On Major Issues

Several Garden City Delegates Not Too Happy Over Outcome

Newton delegates to the Democratic State Convention returned home with mixed feelings and contrasting comments after splitting sharply in the two major fights at the conclave. Some of the Garden City delegates made it plain that they were not at all happy over certain of the developments at the stormy Democratic assembly in the Boston Arena.

Newton Pastor New Moderator Of N.E. Synod

A Newton pastor, the Rev. Charles N. Pickell, of the United Presbyterian Church, has been elected moderator of the Synod of New England, one of the thirty-three regional synods of the 3,200,000 member United Presbyterian Church, U.S.A.

Convening at East Northfield, the group unanimously elected Rev. Pickell.

A majority of the 25-member Newton contingent supported losing candidates in the contests for the Democratic endorsements for U.S. Senator and Governor.

In the senatorial battle 13 Newton delegates voted for Springfield Mayor Thomas J. O'Connor and 12 for Governor Furcolo.

The one-vote defeat for Furcolo in the Newton group could only be construed as a rebuke to the Governor and obviously was in retaliation for his action in seeking the enactment of a sales tax.

If members of the Newton delegation had their way, Lieutenant Governor Robert F. Murphy would have been endorsed for Governor instead of Secretary of State Joseph D. Ward.

The Newton vote was 13 for Murphy and 7 for Ward. The first time the Newton contingent backed a winning candidate at the Democratic convention came in the fight for endorsement for Lieutenant Governor when the Garden City group cast 21 votes for Boston City Council President Edward L. MacLaughlin, Jr., and 4 for Governor's Councillor Abraham H. Kahalas of Dorchester.

A majority of the Newton delegates also supported Representative John T. Driscoll of Dorchester in his successful bid for endorsement for State Treasurer, giving 13 votes to Driscoll, three to William G. Shaughnessy of Woburn and two to ex-Representative John F. Cremens of Cambridge. Two delegates had gone home by the time that contest was settled.

The Newton vote for Secretary of State was widely split, with Governor's Councillor Edward J. Cronin of Watertown and former City Councillor Francis X. Ahearn of Brighton the top choices at the start of the balloting.

Local Gerrymander Appeal Weighed By Supreme Court

Newton residents should know in the very near future whether their city will be divided into two separate State Senate districts or remain in its present status.

The full bench of the Massachusetts Supreme Court on Tuesday took under advisement arguments as to the constitutionality of the bill which would revamp the senatorial districts of the Commonwealth.

Because the deadline by which candidates for the Senate must file their nomination signatures is not far away, it is expected that the Supreme Court will make a speedy decision on the matter.

City Solicitor Matt B. Jones, Jr., appeared before the State's highest tribunal to argue in support of a petition by Newton public officials and citizens that the redistricting law be ruled invalid.

Jones pointed out to the Supreme Court justices that there is a constitutional limitation against dividing wards of a city in either a senatorial or representative redistricting.

He maintained that the new redistricting law, in effect, divides Newton wards since the city would be cut into eight wards for the Senate districts and into seven wards for the House districts.

Gibbs Moves To Save Postmark

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs conferred with Postmaster Ephraim Martin in Boston this week in a personal attempt to halt the discontinuance of the "Newton" postmark as proposed by the Postal department.

The proposal for discontinuance comes up for consideration in July.

Gibbs expressed the hope his action and an attempt to enlist the aid of Sen. Leverett Saltonstall and Rep. Laurence Curtis would result at least in a delay of consideration.

In addition to forming a Research Committee, the Council will provide its member organizations with a summary of the purposes and progress.

Highlands Pastor Named Chaplain at University

The Rev. John Balcom, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Newton Highlands, has been appointed Episcopal chaplain at Boston University.

A joint announcement of the appointment was made this week by Bishop Frederic C. Lawrence, suffragan bishop of the Diocese of Massachusetts, and President Harold C. Case, of Boston University.

Rev. Balcom also will serve as associate Protestant chaplain, and on the staff of the Student Christian Association on Bay State Road.

A graduate of the University of Massachusetts, Rev. Balcom received a B. D. degree from Episcopal Theological Seminary, at Cambridge, and an S.T.M. degree from Harvard Divinity School.

Prior to his present pastorate he served as rector of the Church of the Epiphany, Walpole; as missionary in Alaska; at St. John's Church, Holbrook, and at All Saints Church, Chelmsford.

Since 1958 he has been executive secretary of the Newton Council of Churches, and during this same period has been the Episcopal representative on the Boston University ecumenical staff.

Upon assuming his new duties in September, Rev. Balcom will divide his time equally between his University duties and his parish in Newton Highlands, according to Dr. William A. Overhold, Protestant chaplain at the University.

Democratic Club Elects New Officers

New officers for the 1960-61 season were elected by the Newton Democratic Club at the meeting held recently at the Newton Highlands Women's Club.

Prof. Laurence H. Fuchs, chairman of the Department of Political Science, Brandeis University, was the speaker.

Officers elected included: Laurence C. Sullivan, president; George Cahill, Melvin Chaffin and James P. Waters, Jr., vice presidents; David Fleishman, treasurer; Virginia Sampson, corresponding secretary; and Ruth A. Shapiro, recording secretary.

A ward representatives elected were: Joseph Bradley, Ward 1; Harold Katz, Ward 2; Vera Loftus, Ward 3; Dennis Cronin, Ward 7; and David Yarrish, Ward 8.

The nominating committee comprised, George Cahill, David Fleishman and Jean LeCompte.

POLITICAL HIGHLIGHTS

By JAMES G. COLBERT
Former Boston Post Political Editor

Sen. Powers Made No Deals In Nominating Gov. Furcolo

Professional politicians and seasoned political observers should not have been stunned that Senate President John E. Powers made the nominating speech in behalf of Governor Furcolo at the Democratic State Convention.

That was not the first time that two prominent political figures have feuded furiously and then wound up by supporting each other; nor will it be the last.

It was no more surprising that Powers should deliver the nominating speech for Furcolo than it was that Furcolo should request him to do so.

Some of the supposedly inside stories that have been written on why Powers consented to place Furcolo's name in nomination have been sheer fiction and nonsense.

The true reason for Powers' action is so simple that many politicians, who like to think in terms of deals and intrigue, just can't believe it.

What actually happened was that Furcolo requested Powers to make the nominating speech and that Powers, after weighing all the factors, acceded to the request, possibly to Furcolo's surprise.

Powers differed violently with Furcolo over the sales tax issue in 1957, but when Furcolo stood for reelection in 1958 Powers supported him, and there was no eyebrow-lifting.

A shrewd and astute politician, Powers recognized that the Democratic State ticket in Massachusetts

"Look Ma, No Cavities" Smiling Untruth Dental Survey Made In Local Schools Reveals Alarming Degree Of Decay

"Look ma, no cavities" may be ringing across the nation via certain television commercials but the stark facts of an impartial, comprehensive survey do not bear out the smiling moppet's gleeful tidings.

"Newton school children, in common with children in the New England region as a whole, show a very high degree of dental decay," Dr. Harry T. Phillips, director of Public Health in Newton, announced this week as he disclosed results of the latest survey of dental health in local schools.

Ninety-nine percent of the children who have reached the age of 13 in Newton today have one or more decayed teeth, Dr. Phillips stated, after examination of 600 youngsters from five representative Newton schools have been concluded.

Findings show that by the time the average child has reached the age of 13, he has 7.60 teeth that are decayed, missing because of decay, or filled.

The extensive survey in the Newton schools was conducted by Dr. Robert Kirschbaum, of the health department, assisted by Mrs. Dorothy Baurdeau and Mrs. Lorraine Carder, health department dental hygienists. The survey was carried out in collaboration with the dental staff of the Massachusetts Department of Public Health.

Residents Asked To Write Cards In Favor Of Sylvania Park Plan

Construction of the proposed multi-million dollar Sylvania Science Park in Newton Highlands would mean a monthly payroll of more than a million dollars, according to the Newton Chamber of Commerce.

It would mean an estimated property tax of $450,000 yearly plus a substantial sum of money spent with suppliers and vendors in the Greater Newton Area, according to a letter sent this week to Newton businessmen signed by Justin T. Horan, Executive Director.

Enclosed was a copy of a letter sponsored by a group of leading residents of Oak Hill.

"In it you will find," Mr. Horan said, "ample measures to insure that granting the rezoning will in no way contribute to the deterioration of Oak Hill or our city."

The letter from Mr. Horan continued:

"Unfortunately for us, people who object are usually vocal and more aggressive in their objections. Now is the time for members and non-members of this Chamber of Commerce to appraise the situation and take immediate steps to notify their aldermen..."

"If you are in sympathy with our recommendations, we urge all of you, either as businessmen or residents or both, to immediately take steps to write to your mayor and aldermen and express your favorable support of this rezoning petition. Every letter of support is very significant to the overall objective."

The letter to which Director Horan referred was signed by Russell S. Broad, 17 Brush Hill Rd., Henry S. C. Cummings, 33 Oak Hill St., Edward M. Hallett Jr., 18 Bontempo Rd., Robert A. Keezer, 119 Hanson Rd., Alvin Mandell, 287 Splers Rd., Bernard C. Plotkin, 36 Indian Ridge Rd., George M. Sawyer, 689 Saw Mill Brook Pkwy., Sumner Segal, 36 Bontempo Rd., and James P. D. Waters.

It said: "We are convinced that instead of injuring our city and the Oak Hill area in particular, the establishment of a

Sylvania Research facility off Nahant Street would prove a definite asset. We feel that this proposal is too good an opportunity to miss and if Sylvania's rezoning petition is refused, the 185 acre tract could end up in a much less beneficial use to Newton... "The facility that Sylvania intends to build will not be a 'factory type' operation. There will be no smoke, no odors, no neon signs but will be a desirable and attractive addition to the community..."

"A few facilities of this general type have been built in various other residential areas throughout the country. In each case they have integrated into their respective communities extremely well and in most cases have actually enhanced the valuation of the surrounding properties."

Newton Pastor

(Continued from Page 1) ly selected the Newton clergyman as moderator and another Newton resident, the Rev. Archibald MacMillan, pastor of the Needham Presbyterian Church, as vice-moderator.

The Rev. Pickell is a native of New Jersey and is a graduate of Juniata College in Pennsylvania; Western Theological Seminary, Pittsburgh; and holds the Master of Theology degree from the Pittsburgh-Zenith Theological Seminary. He also engaged in additional study at Harvard University Divinity School.

In addition to his duties as pastor at the Newton church, the new moderator is guest lecturer in Practical Theology at Gordon Divinity School, a member of the board of trustees of Westminister College, New Wilmington, Pa., and of Gordon College and Divinity School, Beverly Farms, Massachusetts.

He serves on the boards of directors of the Lord's Day League of New England and the Evangelistic Association of New England. He is past moderator of the Presbytery of Boston, and a member of several committees in both the Synod and Presbytery. He has contributed poetry, devotional meditations and scholarly articles to several periodicals.

Community Center Plans Expanded Summer Program

Plans for an active and expanded summer program for the Newton Community Center were announced by William Byrne, executive director, at the regular meeting of the board of directors.

Included will be featured a day camp for boys and girls through 6th grade, Kinder Kamp for children approximately 3½ through 6 years, and also many activities for teenagers, plus open-house days for Senior Citizens.

Miss Constance White, who attends Salve Regina College, assisted by Miss Susan Greeley, of the Boston College School of Education, will be in charge of Kinder Kamp for the younger boys and girls.

This group, with headquarters at the Community Center, 429 Cherry St., West Newton, which starts on June 27, with five two-week periods running through Sept. 2, will operate every day, rain or shine, Mondays through Fridays, from 8:30 a. m. to 3:30 p. m.

Children will bring their own lunches and milk and morning snacks will be provided. A carefully planned program will include supervised play, games, stories, movies, trips and other special events. Parents may enroll their children for as many periods as they wish, but must sign up for a minimum of two weeks.

gress of each group in Newton active in housing.

Representatives of these groups which were called together to serve as the Housing Committee follow: United Church Women and Council of Churches represented by Mrs. John D. Fox; Newton Housing Authority with Mrs. Irene K. Thresher; Newton Fair Housing Practices Committee which had A. Donn Kesselheim as representative; Newton Chamber of Commerce with Justin T. Horan; Newton Taxpayers Assn. represented by Lorenz F. Muther Jr.; Newton Planning Consultant, Charles E. Downe; Newton Community Center, William E. Byrne.

Constance S. Garbutt, Community Council Executive, served as secretary to the committee.

A final recommendation, accepted by the Council Governing Board, was that periodic meetings of representatives from the above organizations will be called by the Council in order to help coordinate their activities and enable each group to keep abreast of the work of others.

In her report to the Governing Board Mrs. Getter stated that each of the representatives on the committee was somewhat aware of others who were doing work in the housing field. They were not aware, however, of their inter-relatedness until the meetings. They felt it was of real value in knowing about the activities of others in this field. They agreed it was advisable to look at the over-all needs in the housing field.

Excerpts from the committee's report outline their concern with Newton's housing conditions as follows. As the population and other factors are considered such as mobility and cultural patterns, the cost of services in the fields of education, recreation and welfare increase.

On the assumption that these increased costs will be met and that the tax rate is to be maintained at a reasonable level, other ways must be explored and found which will produce this revenue. One basic resource in Newton which the committee feels could be better utilized is its land. Two major possibilities which Newton could choose in order to improve its land use would be to encourage the right kind of industry at the proper locations and encourage the elimination or upgrading of sub-standard housing.

This second possibility of improving the sub-standard housing is important, we believe, not only from the economic point of view, but from the human point of view. The neighborhoods with a concentration of sub-standard houses seem to be, in many instances, directly related to the areas of high dependency on public welfare, health problems and delinquency.

Housing problems of the aged were also discussed. We found there were two different needs. Some Newton residents who are no longer able to maintain old homes could afford moderate rents. The Council of Churches is now working on this problem. The second need concerns the elderly of low income (maximum income up to $2,500 if single or $3,000 if a couple) who could afford monthly rents around $35 to $45.

The Housing Authority is concerned with government financed housing for these. The Federal Housing program which the Housing Authority may adopt requires the same number of housing units either up-graded, demolished or improved, as will be built for the elderly. These were a few of the many things which were discussed by the committee which led to our recommendations.

The following four areas were of great concern to the Housing Committee and it was hoped that by setting up a general research committee, the committee could more thoroughly study the facts and determine objectively the need for a possible course of action by the Council.

- (1) Ordinance enforcement. Many homes zoned for single residence are used for multiple family dwellings.
- (2) Housing Program for the Elderly. In a city the size of Newton with approximately 90,000 residents, there is to date no provision for housing for the elderly. (Two groups are now active in this area however).
- (3) Housing Code. Newton has no housing code which sets forth minimum housing standards. The Federal housing program for the elderly requires a Housing Code as part of its "Workable Program" for communities adopting this program. Newton is one of the few cities of its size in the U. S. which has not adopted a Housing Code.

Tooth Decay-

Marked contrasts were found in regard to the amount of dental treatment which children attending different schools had received.

At the age of seven, the percentage of decayed teeth which had been filled varied from 50 percent in one school to 82 percent in another. By the time children had reached the age of 10, figures for these two schools were 68 percent and 90 percent, respectively.

However, the average number of teeth which had been subject to dental decay—whether they remained unfilled, or had been filled or extracted—show very little variation between schools.

Political Highlights

this year, whether it likes it or not, must run on the record of the Furcolo administration.

If the delegates at the Democratic State Convention had cast a much larger vote against Furcolo than they did, it would have amounted to a virtual repudiation of a Democratic administration by Democratic delegates.

Powers knew that. He knew that repudiation of the Furcolo administration would have meant probable disaster for the Democratic ticket next fall.

He must also have realized that if a big vote against Furcolo were piled up at the Democratic convention and the Democratic party did lose next November's election, he would have been the one held largely responsible in the cold light of hindsight.

So Powers agreed to put aside any personal feelings of his own and make the nominating speech for Furcolo. When he did so, a substantial number of delegates shifted from O'Connor to Furcolo.

There were no deals. Senator John F. Kennedy did not intervene to ask Powers to do what he did. The first Kennedy knew about the situation was when Powers telephoned him to tell him he was going to make the nominating speech for Furcolo.

Powers felt that while his own position might appear inconsistent to persons not politically minded, he was, nevertheless, helping to pull together the Democratic party and prevent internecine warfare from spreading within the party.

That explanation may not be as interesting as some of the stories which have been dreamed up. It happens, however, to be the fact.

When New York's Governor Nelson Rockefeller, after sharply criticizing President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon, makes a speech some time next fall urging the election of Mr. Nixon as the next President, few politicians will be really surprised.

Yet, there will not be much difference between what Governor Rockefeller will do and what Senator Powers did.

Jarrells Are Re-elected As PTA Presidents

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Jarrell of 173 Allen avenue, Waban, were reelected presidents of the Weeks Junior High School P.T.A. at the recent annual meeting.

The Jarrells, who will serve as presidents for a second year, were formerly active in the Beethoven School P.T.A. where Mr. Jarrell was also president. Mr. Jarrell is president of the Jarrell-Ash Company in Newtonville, makers of scientific instruments. Mrs. Jarrell, a Wellesley graduate, is also a social case worker.

Fluoridation: Middle Stand

Editor, Newton Graphic

Recently in Newton two groups have been formed: one to work towards the introduction of fluoridation to our water supply in the near future; the other to oppose this. Both are working for what they consider the best interests of the community. It promises to be a great battle with much feeling on both sides.

I would like to suggest, before we go any further, that an impartial group of Newton citizens, staying strictly away from all the so-called experts and authorities, quietly conduct a grass roots study of some similar community who have had fluoridation now for several years (four or more). Interview people in their homes regarding their tooth decay, general health and condition of water pipes and appliances using water. Study before and after records of nursing homes, water heater companies etc. to see if chronic illness or corrosion have increased during this time. Study the death rate before and after.

In a fine city like Newton, we should be fair enough to realize that from the standpoint of health and economics (corrosion), there are very definitely two sides to this question, and desisting from pressures, name-calling and quoting the "experts", make our own impartial study and consider the real evidence on both sides.

Graduates From School Custodian In Newton To Administrative Position

Employees working overtime in the building which houses the administrative offices of the Newton Public School system would do a double-take when they saw John F. Daley of 32 Hale St., Newton.

A junior executive by day, Daley would serve as a custodian in the same building at night. It was all done for the sake of education, however.

Daley, who graduated from Northeastern University last Sunday, was employed as an administrative assistant in the business services department of the Newton Public Schools on his co-operative education assignment.

Under the Co-operative Plan of Education at Northeastern, upperclass students alternate 10 and 16-week terms in the University with periods of equal length on regular paying jobs in business and industry.

"With a wife and a family to support," Daley said, "I had to have a second job. So I'd work every night as a custodian in my office building."

"You know, I really liked that night job. The folks I worked with were really great. I sort of miss the job now," he added.

Daley recently received a permanent administrative appointment in the school system.

Married to the former Anna R. Schiavone, "the girl next door," he is the father of Kathleen Ann, 1 year and 8 months old, and John Michael, 5 months old. "Everyone calls them Kathy and Shawn," Daley emphasized.

Both he and his wife are graduates of Newton High School.

"We never went together in high school," Daley said. "Despite the fact that she lived right next door to me for 17 years I didn't go out with her till I got out of the Navy."

Fluoridation May Appear Here Soon on Ballot

Arguments for and against fluoridation of public water supplies in Newton gradually are building up a head of steam and observers predict the question will appear on the ballot in the future so voters can make the final decision.

Groups most prominently identified with the question are the Newton Citizens Committee for Dental Health, who favor fluoridation, and the Citizens' Rights Association, which opposed public fluoridation.

The question has been discussed by the League of Women Voters; and the health and safety committee of the Newton PTA Council has included fluoridation among topics listed for discussion at the coming Fall meetings.

The controversial topic was the subject of a spirited meeting last week at the parish house of the Church of the Open Word in Newtonville. It was called by the Citizens' Rights Association, and opponents argued against the measure.

Dr. Max Ginn, a Worcester dentist, referred to those who favor fluoridation as "an arrogant, stupid group." He showed pictures of persons alleged to have suffered harmful effects from the chemicals placed in the water supply.

M. D. Bogart, of Wellesley, an engineer and past president of the Citizens' Rights Association, called sodium fluoride a "deadly poison accumulated in the human body and its pipelines."

Fluoridation of public water supplies has the support of the Massachusetts Dental Society and other public health and civic groups in the area.

Approximately half of the 70 who attended the meeting were allied with the Newton Citizens' Committee for Dental Health, which favors the plan and hopes to put the question on the ballot.

Miss Doris Waldstein of Newton, who served as Moderator of the meeting, explained "we are not anti anything; we wish to apprise the public of the facts."

Arthur B. Green, president of the Citizens' Rights Association of Massachusetts, called for volunteers to work against fluoridation.

Others in opposition argued that placing of a chemical in the water supply was an infringement of civil rights against the wishes of persons of certain religions.

Anne M. Bradley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bradley of 221 Newtonville Rd., Newton, has been elected president of the Student Council at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital School of Nursing.

Newton's Temple Reyim Wins Hub Art Festival Architectural Top Award

Newton's Temple Reyim, called by its designers as "a synagogue of integrated spaces," has won this year's Boston Art Festival architectural award in the religious building class.

Leaders of the Temple at 1860 Washington street, were faced with a problem common to the expanding suburban community. They sought to provide a building which would encompass facilities for religious worship, social and cultural activities for adults; also educational and recreational facilities for their children.

cooperative venture between architect Norman Fletcher, representative of the firm of Architects Collaborative, and our own committee.

"Even before our first meeting with Mr. Fletcher, we had visited almost every new Temple in New England, had consulted plans of buildings all over the country and done an exhaustive amount of library research."

Mr. Kaufman, an architectural engineer by training, was assisted on the committee by Mrs. Robert Cedar, an artist; Paul Goldstein, then president of the Temple; and George Chaletsky, chairman of the Building Committee.

Kaufman had high praise for the ingenuity and creativeness of architect Norman Fletcher and Architects Collaborative who showed keen insight into the problems of fashioning a multi-facility institution which would afford a proper social atmosphere without detracting from the sanctity of the religious environment. On holy days, for example, when services are attended by the greatest number of members, expanded seating arrangements are necessary in the sanctuary. To keep within a budget of approximately $250,000, the architects placed the social hall and sanctuary under a continuous roof on the same axis, so that the social hall becomes an extension of the worship area for special services.

So that the congregant sitting in the social hall should not feel emotionally as well as physically distant from the service, the architects emphasized the strong rhythmic continuity of the laminated columns and beams through both major spaces.

Deep appreciation of Jewish traditions also was demonstrated in the fashioning of the Eternal Light in the shape of the symbolic burning bush and in the mosaic tile around the ark which depicts the symbols of the Jewish Sabbath. David Holleman was artist for the mosaics and William Martin was sculptor for the eternal light.

The building committee of Temple Reyim under the chairmanship of George Chaletsky included Sol Kaufman, Charles Kaufman, Samuel O. Silver, Manuel Rosenthal, Paul Goldstein, David Wilson, Nathan Sobel and Harry Perlmuter. Contractor was Concrete Construction Company.

Newton Appeal

City Solicitor Jones asserted that there is a possibility that some voters would be virtually disenfranchised under the redistricting law.

He said the fact that Newton is divided into eight wards for Senate districts and seven wards for House districts will create confusion and unusual complications in the Garden City. Newton election officials don't know how to prepare proper ballots and voting lists so that residents in at least three sections of the city can be assured of voting for candidates standing for election in their districts, Jones declared.

Assistant Attorney General James Kelleher, representing the Secretary of State told the court that the Legislature is still in session and can "easily clear up any difficulty in the City of Newton."

They certainly didn't clear this up very much," observed Chief Justice Raymond S. Wilkins.

Kelleher maintained that there are only three small sections of Newton which the redistricting law would place in separate House and Senate districts. He said the Secretary of State could prepare a special ballot for persons living in those areas.

Jones replied that there is no provision in the state law which allows the issuance of such ballots.

Listed as petitioners in the suit brought by Solicitor Jones to have the redistricting bill ruled unconstitutional were Mayor Donald L. Gibbs City Clerk Monte G. Basbas, Registrar of Voters Donald L. Bishop and six other Newton residents.

Temple Reyim under the chairmanship of George Chaletsky included Sol Kaufman, Charles Kaufman, Samuel O. Silver, Manuel Rosenthal, Paul Goldstein, David Wilson, Nathan Sobel and Harry Perlmuter. Contractor was Concrete Construction Company.

TELE-VIEWING THE NEWS

By LEE LOUMOS

In an effort to improve the quality of their shows, TV networks are continually setting up coaching schools for actors, writers, and so on to aid these talents on their way to the coveted Emmy. But ABC-TV recently announced plans for a TV school for "performers" whose goal is not the little golden statuette, but something more practical ... public office.

This year, hundreds of political candidates will be using television in their campaigns, many for the first time. And so that they'll appear with their best TV foot forward, ABC is setting up tuition-free schools to instruct them in the intricacies of television, including courses in how to take cues, how to sit and stand, and so on. To be run by ABC's affiliate stations, the schools will be staffed by the local station's own newsmen.

And even if they lose the election, graduates of the school will have some consolation. After all, with this training, they can always carve themselves careers as performers on TV. No one can do really top work without training. That's especially true in TV service. Modern electronics is a complex field. Only a trained expert technician can do the dependable, quality TV repair you want. For TV service by technicians with years of training and experience, call us.

And remember, every Friday night from 7:30 to 8:30 is open house for demonstration of the new Thomas choral transistor organ — hear it or play it yourself, you will be amazed at such versatility for so little money.

Fair Housing Committee Elects and Files Report

Mrs. C. Leon Hopper, of 240 Derby street, West Newton, was elected chairman of the Newton Fair Housing Practices Committee at the annual meeting held at the Newton Community Center this week.

Mrs. Hopper is the recipient of one of the 1960 Brotherhood Awards given by the Conference of Christians and Jews.

Other officers elected included: John Greene, of Douglas street, vice-chairman; Mrs. William Holman, of West Newton, recording secretary; Mrs. Eleanor Kastner, of Waban, corresponding secretary; Mrs. George Roberts, of Newton Centre, treasurer; and Mrs. A. Donn Kesselheim, of Newtonville, secretary.

The presence of a non-white family in an otherwise white neighborhood does not appear to have caused material alteration in the normal course of real estate prices," Dr. Morton Rubin of Northeastern University stated. This was the conclusion drawn by the research subcommittee in its major report to the annual meeting.

This subcommittee, headed by Jerome Grossman, has been working for two years to discover what effect, if any, ownership of residential property by non-whites in otherwise all-white neighborhoods has on the value of surrounding real estate. Mr. Grossman was aided in his presentation by Mr. Henry Shepard, formerly of West Newton; and Dr. Morton Rubin.

Twenty-five non-white families established in the Newtons during the last five years were the subjects of the study. To secure information, the subcommittee used only records available to the public, such as polling lists, records kept by the Assessor's Office and the Registry of Deeds.

The final report would seem to indicate that the status of real estate values is not threatened when orderly integration of residential areas takes place, according to the committee.

Ex-Newton Counselor On Summer Faculty

Alfred Southworth, who served as youth guidance counselor (1955-56) for the Newton public schools, has been named to the teaching staff on the June 27-Aug. 5 University of Cincinnati Summer School Counseling and Guidance Training Institute for secondary school counselors. Dr. Southworth is chief psychologist of the Boston Dispensary Rehabilitation Institute.

Residents Of Staniford St. Oppose Dump

Some 300 residents of the Staniford St. area in West Newton have united to oppose proposed use of the Flowed Meadow section as a city dump when the present Pine St. area is filled.

However, no immediate action in the matter appears likely until the Land Court rules on proceedings by the City of Newton to obtain title to the land through tax foreclosures. Use of the Flowed Meadows for a dump was recommended under long range planning.

The area comprises marsh land to the west of Lexington St., across from the existing dump. It is bounded by Staniford St., and Rumford Ave., and stretches to the Waltham line.

The protesting Staniford St. residents are led by a committee of five. Secretary of the group is Joseph T. Carey of 102 Staniford St. They have filed a petition opposing use of the land for a dump.

Cautious Words For Cinderella

One of the saddest Cinderella stories ever told was the one about the struggling young actress who won the heart of a millionaire. Her family who had practically disowned her for seeking a stage career now opened their arms. They killed the fatted calf when she came home to prepare for her wedding. (Quite a change from living on malted milks in a Broadway drug store). "Friends" who had laughed at her struggles were now only too glad to prove their undying affection.

Party followed party. In between, there were fittings, arrangements to be made, changed, and made all over again, thank-yous to write as the many gifts poured in. If Cinderella got four hours sleep out of 24 she was lucky. Plenty of chicken in patty shells and fancy desserts were set in front of her, but she was too excited to eat much. Between parties she lived on sandwiches and black coffee.

The wedding went off as scheduled: the biggest town had seen for years. At last Cinderella found herself with the Prince in a first class cabin on the Queen Mary setting out on their honeymoon trip to Europe. She was sick the first day out, and the next, and so on. The sights of Europe were doctors' offices, hotel bedrooms, and medicine bottles.

This sad tale is not an unusual one. Too many brides start out on their honeymoons completely worn out by the wedding preparations. The first weeks of marriage are difficult enough without the added complication of a bride suffering from indigestion, exhaustion and frayed nerves.

If you want a real wedding and a happy honeymoon, pay a visit to the family doctor before the festivities shift into high gear. He'll give you a thorough check-up and words of wisdom. You'll do well to follow his advice. Remember that the wedding is, after all, only the prelude to the main event. Be cautious, be a really happy, healthy bride and wife. This column is sponsored in the interest of better health by the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association, Inc., whose sole support is the annual sale of Christmas Seals.

Northeastern University announces that Charles E. Nahabedian, of 1623 Centre St., Newton Highlands, has been elected pledge officer of the Pershing Rifles Society, foremost military honor society in the ROTC.

Tom Powers Is Ft. Dix Trainee

Rct. Thomas F. Powers, 22, of 40 Summer St., Newton, has been assigned to G Company, of the 3rd Training Regiment at Fort Dix, N. J., for eight weeks of basic training, in conjunction with the 1955 Reserve Forces Act.

Powers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Powers, attended Newton High School and Northeastern University. He will serve on active duty for six months of training, and then be transferred to home-town duty with an Army Reserve or National Guard unit.

Local Split-

A formal protest was made by the Newton delegation at Friday's session of the convention when written copies of the platform were not distributed to the delegates so they would know what planks the platform contained.

Even though the Newton group was seated near the front of the hall, the convention was so noisy and the acoustics in the Arena so poor that it was difficult to hear the platform when it was being read.

Democratic State Committee woman Betty Taylor of West Newton served as monitor for the Middlesex-Suffolk senatorial district which takes in Newton, the Ward 22 section of Brighton and one ward in Cambridge, and reported its vote.

The Newton delegates to the Democratic conclave were: Ward 1.—William J. Fagan, Wayne Murphy and Alderman Joseph G. Bradley.

Ward 2.—Lawrence Sullivan, former Alderman Alfred R. Guzzi, Lawrence E. Cooke and Mrs. Jacqueline Cooke.

Ward 3.—Mrs. Betty Taylor, Robert Segal, William C. Sherman and Simon Scheff.

Ward 4.—Dennis M. Cronin, Virginia Sampson and John W. Cochran.

Ward 5.—Alvin S. Hochberg, Sally A. Corwin, Helen Bloomberg, Milton Kay and Sidney Berkman.

Ward 6.—Edward L. Hirsh, Richard L. Curley, Sanford A. Kowal and Larry A. Bear.

Ward 7.—Melvin H. Chaifetz and Michael E. Flynn.

Belief that the Democratic convention endorsed a strong ticket was expressed by Lawrence E. Cooke, chairman of the delegation, at the close of the proceedings.

Some of the other members of the contingent, however, were not prepared to say what candidates they are likely to support in the primary contests now looming ahead.

A few indicated that they have adopted a wait-and-see attitude and will wait to determine just what candidates enter the primary lists and how the battle lines are finally drawn.

Virtually all agreed that the Democratic convention, unlike the Republican conclave held a week earlier, didn't settle much of anything.

There are about 1,900 varieties of milkweed in the world.

Twin Celebrations To Greet Gala July Fourth In Newton

Sylvania Co. Gets Green Light For Science Park

The Sylvania Company has been given the green light to proceed with plans for establishment of a $12-$15 million campus-type electronic data processing Science Center.

Site of the Science Park is the old Shaw Estate in Newton Highlands. Plans call for the erection of the first of four buildings in 1961 at a cost of $5,600,000.

By 1970, employment in Newton will be increased by 3,500 workers and some $20 million will be added to the annual payroll, according to the plans.

The Newton Board of Aldermen, at full strength for the first time this year, voted 21 to 3 on Monday evening to change 154 acres of land on Nahanton street, from Residence "A" to limited manufacturing.

Although Sylvania had requested that 180 acres be made available for the project, the Aldermen restricted the acreage to 154, and required that 26 acres be held as a buffer to protect property values in nearby Oak Hill.

It also was stipulated that 39 acres be reserved for parking by Sylvania employees to prevent adjacent streets from being congested.

Voting against the Sylvania project were three Aldermen from Ward 8, including President Wendell R. Bauckman. The others were Aldermen Theodore D. Mann and Charles H. Morang.

In opposing the petition from Sylvania for a change of zone, President Bauckman expressed fears it would be an opening wedge to bring industry into other undeveloped areas of Oak Hill.

Alderman Morang said he received 626 letters from residents.

Upper Falls to Stage Its Affair Saturday; Newton Centre Events On Monday

Newton will have two big Fourth of July celebrations this year.

The echo of bursting rockets and the flashing glare of brilliant fireworks displays from the Newton Upper Falls celebration will virtually carry over to the celebration in Newton Centre.

The entire Independence Day festivities at Newton Upper Falls will take place on Saturday, two full days before the Fourth of July. The Newton Centre events will be held on Monday, the Fourth, as usual.

Thus double-barreled festivities will be a fitting welcome from the Garden City to the new 50-star U. S. flag, and the admission of Hawaii as the 50th state of the Union.

Both events are being staged by the Improvement Associations of the two neighborhoods.

The Upper Falls Improvement Association sought an official of a fireworks company to come to Newton and set off the display. However the official had a full day planned for the Fourth.

So it was decided to advance the entire celebration two days, and there will be plenty of exploding rockets and many-colored wheels to gladden the hearts of youngsters of all ages on Saturday, July 2.

Saturday's events begin at noon with a "horribles" parade since the emphasis will be to make the day a memorable one for the kiddies. Prizes will be awarded for the funniest costumes.

This will be followed by a doll parade, bicycle and tri-cycle parade.

The playground will be the scene of field events for young people aged from five years to 18. This will begin at 2 p.m.

"The Great Bourdini," an oriental magician, will entertain at 6 o'clock and this program will be followed by the awarding of prizes. Movies including plenty of cartoons for the children, will be shown before the fireworks.

Lieutenant Governor Robert F. Murphy made some unusually strong charges when he announced that he will disregard the action of the Democratic State Convention and carry his campaign to the voters in the September primary.

Secretary of State Joseph D. Ward is noted as a resourceful, two-fisted campaigner who doesn't pull any political punches.

Even State Treasurer John F. Kennedy who has fixed a $100 primary budget for himself and will make no campaign in the accepted sense of the word, has announced his willingness to debate any of his opponents on television, radio or before public assemblies.

Ward, Murphy and Kennedy all will be fighting for their very political lives in the primary conflict now gathering force and fury. Two of the three will be liquidated when the votes are counted on the night of Sept. 13.

Shots Halt Noisy MTA Repair Crew

An irate Newton Centre resident, apparently unable to sleep because of noise made by an MTA repair crew, has been blamed for two shots fired about 2:35 a.m. Monday. A police search proved fruitless.

Night superintendent Frederick P. O'Neill reported the 16-man crew repairing ties on the Highland Branch refused to work after the shots were fired.

Gibbs Leaves State Senate

State Senate President John E. Powers this week acceded to the wishes of Newton Mayor Donald L. Gibbs and accepted Gibbs' resignation from the Senate.

Powers declared that no special election will be called to fill Gibbs' seat in the Senate since the 1960 legislative session presumably would be concluded before such an election could be held.

Hot "Suburbia Today" Feature

Noted Author Wants Delinquents To Work

Robert Paul Smith, noted writer and author of two best sellers, takes an unusual stand on a nationwide problem, juvenile delinquency, in the July issue of "Suburbia Today" coming with this newspaper next week.

"How About Child Labor Instead of Child Crime?" is the suggestion of Writer Smith who comes along with a surprising and spirited defense of the dignity of labor to replace what he believes to be the folly of universal education.

He proposes to limit higher education to those children who can and want to be educated. He feels that this education is wasted on problem kids who have no desire to utilize it, and who feel that they are in school by force.

"The Rules Nobody Knows," by Charles Price, editor of Golf Magazine, will be most interesting to fairway addicts.

There are forty-one official rules that govern the game. There are also several hundred

Swim Course Of Red Cross Opens Tuesday

Registrations are being taken for the annual swimming program of the Newton Red Cross which opens Tuesday, July 5th, at Crystal Lake.

Gilbert J. Champagne, chairman of safety services for Newton Chapter, announced this week that pupils for the course must be five years of age.

The schedule for classes is as follows: 9 a. m. Intermediate 1, 2 and 3; at 10 a. m., Intermediate 1 and Beginner 1 and 2; at 11 a. m., Beginner 1, 2 and 3; at 12:45 p. m., Beginner 1, 2 and 3; and at 2 p. m., Swimmers, Junior and Senior Life Saving.

Greet Fourth-

for the bonfire and the fireworks display.

This should be around 9:30 p. m. Refreshments will be available throughout the day.

Expenses for all these events are being paid for with contributions from residents. Donations are being accepted by the Association president, Alfred S. Carroll of 19 Rockland Place, and the treasurer, Edmund S. Zandt of 19 Ohio avenue.

Also assisting are Kenneth Vlass, George Breslin, Ralph Maddocks and Chuck Morrison.

In past years the attendance at the Newton Centre celebration appeared to surpass that at Upper Falls in the number of persons attracted by the displays.

However, this may be different this year because of the dual celebration. Both celebrations may draw larger crowds than in years past, and the crowds in each neighborhood may be about the same.

The Newton Centre July Fourth celebration begins at 9:30 a. m. at the Newton Centre playground.

Of course there will be plenty of free ice cream for the kiddies.

There will be the usual parade of gaily decorated doll carriages and bicycles. There will be prizes awarded for the best decorated carriage and bicycle; the best doll and best costumed little "mother."

There will be just as much fun for cats and dogs as little people. The pet show always brings out a great variety of pets and prizes will be awarded in each category.

As usual there will be various race events at 35 yards and 50 yards, and what is likely to provide plenty of fun will be the tonic race. And there will be the sack race, the three-legged race and the peanut race, too.

Co-chairmen for the events at the playground are Cleo F. Jalliet, former president of the Association who has handled this affair for the past 12 years, Walter C. Feinberg and Edward B. Lynch.

H. Scott Wells is chairman of the fireworks in the evening, which also get under way about 9:30 p. m.

So this year, for the first time, residents of all the Newtons can attend both the Upper Falls and the Newton Centre displays and enjoy a double dose of celebrating the Grand and Glorious Fourth, in a safe and sane way.

Camp Season Of Boys Club Now Underway

The Newton Boys Club opened its Day Camp program this week at Allison Park. The season will extend through August 5th and will run for three 2-week periods.

More than fifty-five registered for the first period according to Samuel Crocetti, executive director of the Newton Boys Club. Director Crocetti also advised potential campers that only a few openings remain for the second and third periods.

Mr. Crocetti also stated that 30 boys have registered for the resident camps at Camp Wing and Camp Stockade at Duxbury.

These camps are open to Newton Boys Club members through the courtesy of Boys and Girls Clubs Inc., of Boston. With a few openings still remaining at these resident camps, those intending to register are asked to contact Mr. Crocetti at the Boys Club, 98 Dalby Street, or phone at BI 4-9384.

Anti-Fluoridation Group Holds Panel Discussion

A public meeting sponsored by the Newton Citizens Rights Association was held recently at 11-A Highland avenue, Newton, in opposition to the fluoridation of public water supplies.

The well-attended meeting heard a panel of experts discuss their views on the harmful and injurious effects of fluoridation.

Arthur Greene, president of the Massachusetts Citizens Rights Association, Dr. Charles Brusch, of the Brusch Medical Center, Dewey Bogart, an engineer, and Dr. Max Ginns, for many years dental consultant at the Worcester City Hospital, were members of the panel.

They took strong positions in opposition to the fluoridation of public water systems and answered questions from the audience on the subject.

Dr. Ginns also exhibited pictures showing the effects of for the European study which centers about Le Montcel, a well-known French independent school.

Tours through Brittany, Normandy, and to the Riviera are interspersed with study at Ecole du Montcel. In mid-August the group will sail for home on the S. S. Nieuw Amsterdam.

Charles River Golfer Is Women's State Champion

Fellow-members at the Charles River Country Club were congratulating Mrs. Edward McAuliffe on her victory in winning the finals of the 57th annual state Women's Amateur Golf Championship.

The title came to Charles River when Mrs. McAuliffe defeated Mrs. Albert B. Bower of Essex by a score of 4 and 3 at the wind-swept Concord Country Club Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. McAuliffe who lives at 8 Woodfield Rd., Wellesley, with her husband and their two small children, was stronger off the tee and more consistent on the greens.

"This meant more to me than winning the Eastern last year," Mrs. McAuliffe commented. "I've been in this tournament since 1947 and this is my first win. I was beginning to look at it as a jinx tournament."

She was runnerup in 1948 and '58.

Richard Blocker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Blocker, 344 Kendrick St., was one of 50 students chosen from over 800 applications from throughout the nation. Among the factors considered in the selection were native ability of the applicant, record of achievement in high school science course and a statement of the project to be worked on during the summer at the Center.

Snerson Doing OK At UPenn

The Univ. of Pennsylvania expects Gary Snerson of Newton on its varsity track team next year.

Coach A. Richmond (Boo) Morcom stamped Snerson as a "bright prospect" in the javelin throw, perhaps with a better future throwing the javelin than putting the 16-pound steel ball.

Gary, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Snerson of 41 Lakeview ave., Newtonville, was state indoor and outdoor high school champion at Newton for two years. This past season he was a member of the Penn freshman team which won five of its six dual meets. He scored 11 points by landing two seconds and a third in the shot, and a second and third place in the javelin toss.

Vacation Tragedies

Schools have closed for the Summer vacation—these are carefree days of fun and frolic. These are days for the youngsters to play and romp in the sun, days without books and classrooms. These are happy days to swim, go on hikes, take long rides on the bike, to go fishing.

These are days for picnics and cookouts; perhaps a couple weeks at the beach, the mountains or a motor trip with the family.

But too often they turn to days of tragedy. Far too many of our children perish each vacation period in sad mishaps, drownings, fires, Fourth of July explosions and accidents on the roads.

Registrar of Motor Vehicles Clement A. Riley says official records indicate there were 29 children killed last year in traffic accidents. There were 7,000 injured in the school age group under 15 years of age.

Youngsters can be expected to do the unexpected. So it is up to the adults to anticipate what a boy or girl on a bike, or standing at the curb, might decide to do without thinking. The child on the bike might zig into the center of the street instead of zigging away from it; instead of waiting for your car to pass, the child at the sidewalk's edge suddenly may dart out and try to beat you across the street.

If you can't stop in time, Death could win THAT race.

It's an old axiom but still true that a bouncing ball may be followed by a running boy or girl. If a ball rolls across the path of your car, keep an eye alert for some youngster to dash out after it. HIS eye will be on the ball.

Parents must share the heaviest burden of responsibility for the welfare of their children, and their safety. But all of us must share in the task of protecting the youngsters from harm.

There is no accurate count of how many boys and girls met an untimely death by drowning last Summer; how many died in some accident in a building being torn down or constructed; or tragic fire caused by playing with matches or some combustible material.

Dad's power tools should be secured. Electric saws and electric drills have a fascination for youngsters. Above all, any firearms in the house should be hidden and locked so no adventuresome young gun slinger, big game hunter of gun gal, can lay hands on them.

Just a little extra care on the part of parents and all of us, a little more alertness on the part of motorists and a little less speed on city streets all could combine to prevent a great many tragedies these happy vacation days.

Political Highlights

also is a rugged battler who would be right at home in the kind of contest shaping up if he decides to move into the contest, as his friends predict he will.

One big problem facing the gubernatorial contenders will be to command the attention of the voters between now and Primary Day.

The two national conventions will crowd them out of the spotlight during July. The voters ordinarily don't pay much heed to political campaigning in August, and the primary will be held a week earlier than usual. It will come just eight days after Labor Day.

It will be in that last eight-day span that the most important and telling campaigning will be done.

As the fight develops for the Democratic nominations for Governor, U. S. Senator, State Treasurer and Secretary of State, it becomes increasingly apparent that the recent Democratic pre-primary State Convention was a sheer waste of time and money.

All the Democratic claque did was to weed out a very small number of aspirants for places on the Democratic State ticket, spare its endorsees the chore of obtaining 2500 nomination signatures in order to qualify for places on the ballot, give them the first spot on the ballot in their respective contests and allow them to place a notation under their names that they were endorsed by the Democratic convention.

Whether Massachusetts Democrats have held their last pre-primary State Convention will not be known until some time during the 1961 legislative session.

Democratic State Committee Chairman John M. Lynch and other prominent leaders have urged that the convention system of endorsing members of the Republican and Democratic State tickets be abandoned.

They have said much the same thing in the past, however, and their words went unheeded.

By the time the Legislature convenes next January much of the bitterness left by the recent Democratic convention will have disappeared.

If either John A. Volpe or Secretary of State Ward is elected the next Governor, any bill passed by the Legislature to repeal the pre-primary convention law would face a certain gubernatorial veto.

The Republicans favor continuation of the primary system of picking State tickets. They would hold unofficial conventions, as they did in 1952, even if the present law were repealed. So Volpe certainly would block any repeal bill.

Secretary Ward also has been an outspoken advocate of the convention method of endorsing candidates for statewide office. To be consistent he would be obliged to scuttle any move to wipe out that system.

It might be a different story, however, if the next Governor of Massachusetts should prove to be a Democrat who was not endorsed by his party's convention. In such an event the voters themselves would have virtually repudiated the convention system.

Some criticism has been levelled at delegates to the Democratic State Convention because they did not remain at the conclave until an entire State ticket had been endorsed.

Exactly the same criticism could be directed at the delegates to the Republican State Convention, many of whom went home as soon as they had settled the four-way fight for their party's gubernatorial endorsement.

What happened was that some delegates, especially those who lived at considerable distance from the scene of the convention, told their monitors how they wished to be recorded in the contests still to be held.

In some cases their votes were reported by the monitors even though they were not physically present at the time. That is a practice followed in certain delegations. If a member of the delegation obtained a rollcall, however, the votes of those who had gone home could not be counted.

Observers on Beacon Hill anticipate that the agitation for the repeal of the convention system will gradually subside and be forgotten—until after the 1962 Democratic State Convention, when it probably will start up all over again.

First-Ballot Win Seen for Kennedy

Public attention now will shift swiftly from the Democratic strife and struggles on the home front to the national scene where U. S. Senator John F. Kennedy is mounting his last big drive for the Democratic Presidential nomination.

Top Massachusetts Democrats will begin leaving this weekend for Los Angeles to give whatever help they can in the final phases of the Kennedy campaign.

From the reports coming back to Massachusetts, however, it would appear that Kennedy has the Presidential nomination pretty well wrapped up and that all that remains from his standpoint is to put the frosting on the political cake.

Strongest evidence of that is that Kennedy obviously is now conservative in estimating his own strength and that his figures as to the number of delegates already committed to him are substantially below those reckoned by political experts.

That leads to the impression that Kennedy is waiting until just before the convention to disclose some of the strength he has lined up but has not yet made public.

Two old pros in the Democratic party—Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson and Speaker Sam Rayburn—will do their utmost to stop Kennedy. But their best isn't likely to be good enough.

Johnson will be the major opponent against Kennedy at the convention. He probably will get almost solid support from the Southern states. It would be surprising, however, if he climbed much above the 400-vote mark.

Senator Stuart Symington is apt to fade out of the picture. He might not poll many more votes than some of the favorite son candidates who plan to throw their support to Kennedy after they have received an initial complimentary vote.

A first-ballot triumph for Kennedy now appears to be building up.

What is likely to happen is that on the rollcall of the states certain of the delegates will cast their votes for their favorite son candidates.

When the rollcall is ended, however, and before the vote is tabulated, they probably will shift their support to Kennedy. That should put him over the top. At least that's the way the picture shapes up approximately 10 days before the start of the Los Angeles conclave.

McCormack's Stature Greatly Increased

The political pundits are in agreement that the one officeholder who came out of the Democratic State Convention with greatly increased stature and prestige was Attorney General Edward J. McCormack, Jr.

In the 1958 election McCormack had the most formidable opponent, the hardest fight and won by the smallest margin of anyone on the Democratic State ticket.

During the intervening months, however, he has directed his office and conducted himself in such a manner that he now stands virtually alone in the Democratic picture.

McCormack stood completely apart from the bitter battling at the Democratic conclave.

He was unopposed for re-nomination, was endorsed during the comparative calm and quiet of the Friday session of the convention before the knock-down struggles began for the other places on the Democratic slate.

Attempts were made to persuade McCormack to step into the gubernatorial contention, went home as soon as they had

"You're a nice little boy, Herbert. I'm proud to have you for a son. Beat it!"

Window on Washington

by Your Congressman LAURENCE CURTIS - 10th District, Mass.

WASHINGTON, June 29—The House last week passed the Ways and Means Committee bill for medical care for the aged. It provides that states, with federal aid, will furnish medical care to the needy, under standards and procedures fixed and administered by the states, much as old age assistance is now administered. Much sentiment favored the Forand bill, which keyed medical care to the social security insurance system. However, medical care for the aged will have further exhaustive study at an important White House Conference on Aging in Washington next January.

Passage of the Forand bill would have involved an irrevocable commitment, whereas the Ways and Means Committee bill did not, and it was felt better not to proceed beyond it pending the White House Conference. It was passed, 381-23, my vote being in favor, but Senate action may yet greatly change the result.

A new amendment to the Constitution of the United States has been proposed to the states and has already been ratified by one—Hawaii. It will give residents of the District of Columbia the right to vote for President and Vice President.

In accordance with the usual procedure, it was first passed by a two-thirds vote in both the Senate and House, and was submitted to the legislatures of the states. When ratified by a majority vote of three quarters of them, it will become a part of the Constitution.

The District will have three presidential electors. It is sometimes overlooked that when people vote in the presidential election they are really voting for presidential electors. The ballots are so arranged that a few people realize that they are not voting directly for the President and Vice President.

Each state has as many electors as it has Members of Congress, House and Senate—16 for Massachusetts. The electors of a given state vote for the candidates for President and Vice President of the party which prevailed in the November presidential election in that state.

So a very small majority of the popular vote in one of the large states can swing a big bloc of electoral votes one way or the other. It is the votes of the electors, not the popular vote, which really elects the President.

The District was assigned three electors, although on a strictly population basis it might have been entitled to one more. But the Congress felt that the District should not have more electors than the smallest state—three.

This proposed new constitutional amendment does not give residents of the District home rule. The District is now governed by three Commissioners appointed by the President, who share their responsibility with the Congress. The committees on the District of Columbia in the Congress have a large voice in the government of the city.

Under the home rule proposals, residents of the District would elect a city government, although the Congress would still retain certain powers over that government, and would contribute money.

I strongly favor home rule for the District, and believe that Washington suffers from too great a division of powers between the Commissioners and the Congress. It also suffers from the lack of centralized responsibility in a mayor, with which might go pride of accomplishment and initiative.

The Congress has stalled and avoided action on this for years, due in large part to those who distrust popular rule for fear of "minority" influence.

Kingsley School Offers New Educational Concept

The Kingsley Manor School began a new concept in education when it opened for the Summer yesterday to fill two basic needs — to provide tutorial instruction in all academic areas, and to furnish supervised recreation.

Dr. Howard H. Kingsley, the headmaster, intends to combine the idea of tutoring small groups with summer recreational day camp activities. The curriculum offers subjects found in both elementary and secondary schools from grades five through 11. Air-conditioned study rooms insure comfortable surroundings.

The staff consists of highly trained and experienced teachers from the Newton, Wayland and Needham public schools and the Kingsley School in Boston. The school is located in Holliston. Students are picked up at their homes about 8:30 a. m. and returned about 4:30 p. m. a 60-minute supervised study period eliminates home work.

The goal of this period is to teach youngsters how to study so they will be better equipped to do their work when they return to school in September.

A vital part of the program is the diagnostic testing program to provide an analysis of the student's mental ability, aptitudes, interests and academic achievements. A final progress report at the end of the summer will provide parents with valuable information for future guidance.

The July Suburbia has an informative article on drive-ways—how to plan for the best possible one if you're building a house and how to improve the one you have. For anyone who has ever said, "Send it, Please," to a department store clerk there is a story about the men who deliver most of those packages—the United Parcel Service.

The food pages are bursting with pies, any one of which is as refreshing to look at on a hot July day as it is light and delicious to eat. The lady of the house will thrill to these pastry collections. Even the names—Lime Chiffon, Angel Tower and Santa-Lime—seem to stir a light, cooling breeze. The other regular "Suburbia Today" departments include the news column, this month reporting on teenage beatnik parties, false teeth for cows, and the like, and the clever cartoonists offerings, "Suburbia Any Day," with bright suggestions for a gay, fun-filled vacation. It's a big, happy summer-time issue of the popular and lively supplement coming next week with this newspaper. Don't miss it.

Special Message To Fix Newton Voting Tangle

Governor Furcolo will submit a special message to the legislature to correct the voting mixup created in Newton by the passage of a law dividing the Commonwealth into new state senate districts. The bill is now being prepared under the direction of Attorney General Edward J. McCormack, Jr.

Newton will be divided into two senatorial districts under the law which has been upheld by the Massachusetts Supreme Court as constitutional.

However, the legislature is required to eliminate the chaotic situation created by the new law in Newton, which would be divided into eight wards for a state Senate election and seven wards for a House election.

Gibbs Leaves-

Senate when it developed that under the proposed new redistricting law Newton would be divided into two senatorial districts.

Gibbs submitted his resignation shortly after the redistricting bill was approved by the Senate, but Powers at first declined to accept it, urging Gibbs to finish out his term. On Tuesday Powers formally accepted the resignation.

Lennon Sisters Brockton Fair's Singing Feature

The fabulous Lennon sisters —Dianne, Peggy, Kathy and Janet—the singing stars of the Lawrence Welk Show, will make a personal appearance at the Brockton Fair, Sunday, July 3.

This famous sister quartet, making one of their infrequent appearances in this section of the country, will come direct from New York where on Saturday night they will appear "live" with the famed Champagne Music leader.

The 87th annual Brockton Fair gets underway Saturday, July 2nd, but in booking the Lennon Sisters the country's oldest exposition loses little time in presenting top-notch attractions which this year will dominate the nine days of the Fair.

The Lennon Sisters come naturally by their stardom and their music. Born into a musical family, they have been singing since they were mere toddlers, accompanying their parents and grandparents in family "singfests" for as long as they can recall.

These lovely daughters of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Lennon of Venice, California, attribute much of their natural music talent to their parents—their dad formerly was a professional singer as a youngster, but gave up singing when his manager-dad died. Their mother, the former Isabelle (Sis) Denning, also is a natural singer but never entertained professionally.

The Lennon Sisters will appear in two performances on Sunday, July 3rd, the second day of the Brockton Fair. The first show will go on at 3 p.m. and the second performance at 8:30 p.m.

George F. Hurley Enters Race For State Treasurer

Attorney George F. Hurley of West Roxbury, former chairman of the Boston School Committee, this week launched his campaign for the Democratic nomination for State Treasurer.

A strong vote-getter in two city-wide fights in Boston, Hurley was elected to the School Committee in 1955 in his first bid for public office, polling more than 115,000 votes. He was reelected in 1957 and served as chairman of the board in 1958.

Hurley retired from the School Committee at the end of 1959 to accept a position as Assistant District Attorney of Suffolk County.

He served as assistant prosecutor in the trial of William Van Rie, Dutch radio operator.

Because of his familiarity with the prosecution of the Brinks case, he was named special Assistant Attorney General to represent the government before the U. S. Supreme Court in the appeal of that case.

Attorney Hurley is a graduate of the Boston public schools, Boston College High School, Boston College and Boston College Law School.

He is currently associated in the practice of law with his two brothers, Professor Joseph J. Hurley of Suffolk Law School, and Attorney Walter J. Hurley, an instructor of law at Boston College Law School.

His mother, Mrs. Irene Hurley, recently retired after teaching for 25 years in the Patrick F. Lyndon district in West Roxbury.

Hurley is married to the former Cecelia McDonald of Allston. They reside with their two children at 120 Maplewood st., West Roxbury.

He did not seek the endorsement of the recent Democratic State Convention.

Columbia Graduate

Peter Berkowitz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leopold Berkowitz of 67 Woodchester Drive, Chestnut Hill, received an AB degree from the city's undergraduate liberal arts school at Columbia University.

A graduate of Newton High School, Berkowitz was a history major at Columbia. He plans to continue his education in law school.

Opposes Rezoning Bid

Editor, Newton Graphic
I want to record my opposition to the proposed change of zoning for the so-called Shaw Estate on Nahant St. in the Oak Hill section of Newton.

During years of participation in the deliberations of the Oak Hill Park Association and the Oak Hill District Improvement Association I have continually opposed such downgrading in zoning as inimicable to the residential character of the neighborhood. I am not convinced that manufacturing of any sort can enhance real property values. I dread the prospects of similar proposals for the remaining large tracts of land in the area if this proposal is allowed. Who can say that residents of long standing should not have the same privileges for their property if they are to be granted to a speculative developer for the convince of a non-resident, impersonal corporation?

How can the owners of small parcels be consistently denied the right to subdivide if the large owner is to reap the benefits of certain financial gain from a rezoning of this sort?

Relative costs and benefits of this proposal have been compared with those for single family home development under present zoning. First, let me say that, considering the site development costs suggested for the acres intended for manufacturing use, the likelihood of such investment for single family home sites is not great. Nor is it likely that many homes will ever be built on the swamp land that industry would leave idle. In other words, I am not convinced that as many as 192 or 150 or even 100 homes would be likely on the property. I am convinced, however, that whatever housing might be built, it will be substantial and of such valuable value as to pay considerably more than its share of public costs.

I also feel that such conceivable residential development will do far more to enhance surrounding property values with far fewer inconveniences and indirect costs than can industrial development. With first class development it might be possible to attract as residents of Newton the scientists and leaders of many nearby existing firms who would have far greater stake in our school and city services than the personnel of a given firm within our borders. I, for one, prefer to give my volunteer efforts to the community I call "home."

There are, unfortunately, some people who do not like the concept of "home" because it might mean more children and more of the schools in which we take such pride. To them a few dollars as presumed saving on the tax rate is all-important. I often wonder if all the savings predicted from new industrial development with little or no loss were to be totaled and realized, might we not be tax free?

It should be noted that the creation of 183 acres of industrial land can well result in 183 acres of industrial development. Modern construction is not hampered by poor site features. It will be recalled that developers in Cambridge are anxious to build right out over the Charles River. Perhaps such development won't be undertaken by the present owners or the petitioners within the next 10 years, but it would pose a constant threat for the future.

If, for some reason, the City finds it expedient to rezone the property in question, let me ask a few more questions. How does the proposed development fit into the City's plan for the whole area? Or is there a plan? Does the proposed development make the most lucrative use of the property from the City's point of view?

I want to admit that I am an abutter to some of the property in question and have the normal protective concern of one who sees his property values threatened. I hope, however, that my concern is shared by others who consider a refusal of the petition to be in the best interests of the City of Newton.

DECATY (Newton Graphic, June 23, 1960).

This dental survey showed that the average 13-year-old Newton child has seven decayed, missing because of decay or filled teeth.

The experience of cities like Chicago, Washington and Philadelphia — which already have adopted fluoridation — reveals that two-thirds of dental decay can be prevented by the inexpensive method of bringing the level of fluoride in the municipal water supply to the proper level.

That water fluoridation is a highly desirable public health measure can be seen in the endorsement it has received from professional groups such as the American Medical Association, the American Dental Association, the American Water Works Association and the U. S. Public Health Service. In addition, other highly respected national groups like the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, the American Legion, the U. S. Chamber of Commerce and the A. F. of L. C. I. O. have adopted policies favorable to fluoridation.

It is interesting to recall the historical fact that when other public health measures like vaccination, water chlorination and milk pasteurization were first proposed there was bitter opposition from some persons.
